Appeared in the Naturalization Court Today—Several Nationalities Represented

A session of the naturalization court was held in this city this morning and on account of the large number of applicants for second papers, the session was resumed this afternoon. The session was held in the clerk's office of the court house on Garham street and the corridors adjacent to the office were crowded with applicants and witnesses.

Each applicant was accompanied by two witnesses and there were about forty in number who applied for their second papers. The names were called out by Assistant Clerk Ralph Nathan Smith and he also administered the oath of allegiance. It was necessary for both witnesses to testify that they have known the applicant for at least five years and that he has been a resident of the United States for five years and a resident of Massachusetts for one year.

A list of questions relative to the constitution of the United States was asked and up to noon as far as could be learned none of the papers were suspended and all were allowed to take the oath of allegiance.

Several nationalities were represented at the session including English, Scotch, Irish, Greek, French and Swedes and the attendants were busy keeping the men in line. Many witnesses appeared and stated that they had other engagements at noon, but they were told that the applicant whom they represented would have to wait and go in when his name was called.

It was announced that tomorrow either Clerk Dillingham or Assistant Clerk Smith will come to Lowell for the accommodation of applicants for first papers.

LAY TARIFF BILL ASIDE 24 HOURS

Entire Conference Report Put Over in Senate as the Result of Protest by Several Senators

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—The entire conference report on the tariff bill was laid aside for twenty-four hours in the senate today as a result of a protest among democratic senators which resulted in the calling of a party caucus to go over the conference report before it should be finally acted upon in the senate. A hurriedly called caucus assembled at 11 o'clock but when the senate met at noon the caucus had made no progress toward a conclusion and the democratic leaders agreed to lay the tariff bill aside. The conference resumed work at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

The so-called insurgent forces, led by Senator Reed of Missouri who circulated the demand for a caucus insisted there were many compromises and amendments agreed to by the conference which demanded further study by democrats of the senate before being finally written into the bill.

After an hour's discussion of the matter in the caucus democratic leaders determined not to try to force the tariff bill through the senate today but to allow ample time for debate behind closed doors.

Senator Pomeroy's objection to the action of the conference in dropping the $110 tax on grape brandy used to fortify sweet wines and Senator Reed's criticism of the decision of the conference committee on several important tariff rates were the chief points brought up when the caucus met.

Senator Kern, the democratic leader, and Chairman Simmons of the finance committee, expressed the opinion early this afternoon that the tariff bill would be taken up tomorrow in the senate.

The controversy over the proposed cotton futures tax may further prolong the deliberations of the democratic caucus, however.

When the senate met the conference report on the bill as agreed to by the house was presented.

Sen. Simmons, for the senate conference, asked that the conference report be allowed to lie on the table until tomorrow. He offered no explanation of the request but it was granted and the consideration of the tariff bill went over.

WATER MAIN IN THE RIVER BED "ACCOUNT 500" WAS SULZER'S

GANG OF MEN LOWERING SECTION OF WATER MAIN BEING LAID UNDER THE RIVER

Work of Laying Big Pipe in Bed of the Merrimack River is Nearing Completion—Quick Sand Delays Job

Work on the laying of the 24 inch water main in the bed of the Merrimack river from Ferry lane to the Aiken street bridge, is progressing rapidly and it is expected if there is no sudden delay in the work, that the job will be completed in about ten days.

The work of laying this large water main is really a larger undertaking than many people think, for in order to get to the bed of the river, the workmen were forced to box up certain portions of the ground with coffer dams, and with the use of a steam pump, clear the bed of its water.

Although work was not started before the early part of August, already 1000 feet of the river bed has been dug up and the main laid, and there still remains about 150 feet of pipe to be laid. There are about 75 men on the job and they are pushing the work at a rapid pace.

Now that the work is nearing completion, the task of laying the main is much more difficult for the reason that deep water is in the way. However the water is not any higher than it was when the job was started, but the river bed is full of deep holes and many of them are now being encountered.

In the course of the work the men struck a marl or quick sand, but nevertheless they made rapid progress, although the digging was very difficult. They lay on an average of four sections of 12 feet each day, but since they struck deep water, this has been reduced about half. The connections to the Aiken street main which are also being put in place, it is expected, will be made in a couple of weeks. Commissioner Barrett and Supt. Thomas of the water department and an engineer from the engineer's office are constantly on the job as a slight misstep might have serious results.

Broker Says Colwell Told Him the Deposits Under That Head Were for Governor

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 1.—Direct connection between "account 500" and Governor Sulzer was established today when J. B. Gray of the stock exchange firm of Fuller & Gray, who handled the account, testified before the impeachment court that Frederick J. Colwell told him that the stock transactions in the account were for the governor. Colwell was Sulzer's alleged dummy.

CALL HANDWRITING EXPERTS AT SULZER'S IMPEACHMENT TRIAL

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 1.—Handwriting experts were expected to make their appearance today in the impeachment of Gov. Sulzer. Several signatures made by either the governor or his agents, were in dispute. Bank employees who have been on the stand failed to identify them. Some are endorsements of checks and others are attached to letters. One signature which counsel for the board of managers are very anxious to identify is that attached to a letter asking Harris & Fuller, New York brokers, to close the governor's account to Lieutenant Commander Joseph L. Colwell. It was signed "William Sulzer for Mrs. Sulzer." Melville B. Fuller, testifying yesterday regarding this account, said that it represented a loan made the governor and that he had said the money went to pay obligations incurred by Mrs. Sulzer at the Carnegie Trust Co. of New York, now defunct.

INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL ON THE LEDGE SITE

Com. Cummings, Mr. Campbell and Principal Fisher Say City Needs New School

If the council and the school board are agreeable it is very probable that a fine up-to-date and very commodious industrial school will be erected on the ledge in Howers and Fletcher streets.

As was published in The Sun some time ago the Mann school is in a much dilapidated condition, and according to Supt. Fisher, it is a menace to the teachers and pupils, while the old Bartlett school is practically in the same condition, and furthermore the buildings are too small to properly house the many who desire to take the course.

As a result of the inadequacy of these buildings, Commissioner Cummings, who has charge of the public building department, conferred with School Committee A. Campbell, and the two men came to the conclusion that an industrial school building should be erected by the city of Lowell, and the proper place for this new structure would be the ledge site in Bowers and Fletcher streets, which contains 100,000 square feet of land. This place is large enough to erect a building that would take care of all the pupils of the old Bartlett, the Mann and Morrill schools, and in addition Messrs. Cummings and Campbell suggest that a shower bath be erected on the same site.

Will Prepare Plans

Messrs. Cummings and Campbell are in favor that the council and the school board confer on this matter at an early date and have plans in readiness for the board of commissioners who will be in office next year. Of course it is impossible to erect these buildings this year, but as Mr. Cummings says the plans can be prepared and the next city government can go to work on these important additions at the first of the year.

Supt. Fisher of the industrial school favors this project and he says providing the city would put up the walls and roof, the boys from the industrial school would do the rest of the work. He said the pupils would be only too glad to get practical experience in their particular line of study. Mr. Fisher said the city ought to build larger quarters for it is almost impossible under present conditions to conduct the school on a good basis. He is also desirous of establishing new lines of studies at the school, such as shoe work and hosiery and others, but he cannot do now for the schools are too small for the present studies.

The Evening Classes

The evening classes of the industrial school will open on October 13, and registration will be held Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings from 7 to 9 o'clock at the Morrill, Bartlett and Mann schools.

According to the state law no applicant will be considered who is under 17 years of age. The work at the Morrill school, which is for women employed during the day, will include the following courses: Bread making, meats and vegetables, deserts, breakfasts, bread, biscuits and hot cakes, cake making, pastry and puddings, soup stock and oysters and poultry.

On the completion of the courses efficiency tests may be given by representatives of the state board of education, and this will be the basis for recommendation for reimbursement. This means that attendance must be regular and that the students must know the subject thoroughly. Several courses may be taken in succession during the school period.

The men must be 17 years of age or over and be employed during the day in the occupation for which they want instruction during the evening. The courses are construction courses and are given for the purpose of advancing the workers along their respective lines. The evening work this year will be given in definite courses of several weeks covering a certain phase of the trade work. When this is completed the student may register for a second or third phase of the trade work.

The courses for the evening schools will be as follows: Old Bartlett: Carpentry, house framing, roof framing and stair building. Machine shop: Drafting, printing, stop press, plumbing for apprentices. Morrill: Electricity for practical work and theory and man, theory and man, practice and automatic.

DEATH OF CHILD IN CHURCH AND COURT

Was Not Due to Criminal Negligence Says Judge Pickman

Judge John J. Pickman has announced his finding on the inquest on the death of Lena Stoddard, aged 9 years, deaf and dumb, who was killed in First street on July 12th by being struck by an electric car running between Lowell and Lawrence.

The finding reads in part as follows: "Since the accident occurred the bushes and small growth on the side of the embankment to some extent have been cut down, so that a view is given in some places of the track below. There should be a further removal of the trees and bushes to afford thereby an unobstructed view from the top or the side of the embankment, and there should be frequent warning signals when a car is running at a high rate of speed or other means used to give notice of danger to persons coming down the embankment toward the track."

"I find that on the afternoon of Saturday, July 12, last past, that Lena Stoddard, a girl of the age of 9 years, who is deaf and dumb, while standing or walking near a track of the Bay State Street railway company that is laid on the extension of First street in said city of Lowell, was struck by a street electric car that was owned and operated by said Bay State Street Railway company, that was running on said track from Lowell to Lawrence, and sustained injuries thereby that resulted in her death."

"I find that the injuries and death were not caused by the criminal negligence of the said Bay State Street Railway Company nor its officers, agent or servants."

ON EXHIBITION

Loving Cup and Picture of Pennant Winners in Sun Window

The large silver loving cup presented to Manager Gray of the Lowell baseball team by the players who wore Lowell uniforms this season is now on exhibition in the window of The Sun's business office. The cup has been inscribed with the names of the players and the picture of the team is also on exhibition in the same window.

The names which the cup bears are as follows: Andrew Roach, president; John Cull, secretary; Harry Aubrey, captain; Thomas Daly, James Greenhalgh, who played under the name of Thomas; Eddie Miller, Jack Halestein, Joseph Flannery, Edward Henderson, Arthur Mayhew, Nat Zieser, Joseph Flannery, John Rieger, Morris Deo, Peter Clemens, James Magee and Arthur (Rube) DeGroot.

So many fans were calling at the baseball office to view the cup that the management decided to place the cup on exhibition in the spot most accessible to those interested and The Sun was only too glad to accommodate the baseball public.

BLAZE IN LOCAL THEATRE

FIREMEN CALLED TO THE ACADEMY OF MUSIC IN THE EARLY MORNING

An alarm from box 7 at 424 this morning called all the down town fire apparatus to Dutton street, where a blaze in the wooden canopy over the box office to the Academy of Music was just beginning to break through the wall into the theatre. Nothing was used by the firemen except the chemicals, however, and the blaze was soon extinguished. If the firemen had been a few minutes later in their arrival upon the scene it is quite probable that a conflagration of a serious nature might have resulted.

NEW LAW MAKES PAUPERS

Mayor M. A. Scanlon at Lawrence
Hearing Attacks the New Child
Labor Law

LAWRENCE, Oct. 1.—Many persons who spoke at a hearing here last night expressed the opinion that the new child labor law would prove a hardship on poor families. The hearing was given by a special committee of the state house of representatives appointed to investigate conditions surrounding the employment of women and children in this commonwealth. About 150 men and women and a number of boys were present. Of the numerous speakers, only half a dozen favored the law.

Act Is Bad
Mayor Scanlon said that in Lawrence it has been found that the working of the act is bad. He was sorry the committee who reported it did not see fit to visit the mill centers before the act was passed. "Our children," he said, "graduate from the grammar schools when they are 14 years old and their parents in a great many instances need their assistance in bringing up the younger members of the family. The pay of a child 12 years old working in the mill is a great help."

"There is no place for these children but the streets. It is better to send the children to work at 14."

Making Paupers

"The result of the law here," said Mayor Scanlon, "is that it is making paupers out of people who want to earn their own living. The members of the family want to go to work to earn enough to keep them away from the overseers of the poor of the city."

As an instance of the working of the act, a boy named Mason was asked to stand up. He is 14 years and 3 months old, but weighs 190 pounds. He was discharged from work.

Two older but smaller boys were asked to stand up to show that the act should not be the test. Mayor Scanlon thought it would be better if the law had a physical test attached to it. He believes the repeal of the law would be a benefit to Lawrence and to other textile communities.

In answer to a question put by Representative Hays, Mayor Scanlon said inquiry found that none of the mills, with the exception of the Wood mill, had made arrangements to keep boys between 14 and 16 years at work.

TARIFF ADOPTED REV. H. A. BARKER

Left the House on Last Journey to Senate—
Vote 254 to 103
Reception at the Eliot Cong. Church

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—The democratic tariff revision bill left the house last night on what the party leaders hoped would be its last journey to the senate. After many hours of debate the house adopted the main conference agreement on the bill, 254 to 103, almost a strict party vote, and by this action gave its indorsement to everything in the measure except the cotton future tax.

Cotton Future Tax

At the end of a short but bitter fight that followed the adoption of the report Representative Underwood, the democratic leader, succeeded in carrying through the Smith-Lever cotton futures tax amendment by a vote of 171 to 161. Democrats and republicans alike voted on this without regard to party and a large portion of the democratic membership from Southern states joined in the vigorous demand that the whole subject be carried over to another session of congress.

The cotton futures tax question now rests entirely with the senate. The house concurred in the Clarke amendment put into the tariff bill by the senate, but added the Smith-Lever amendment. Unless the senate will accept this change, which has the indorsement of the president, the whole cotton futures plan will again have to be considered in the joint conference committee and again reported to both houses of congress for action.

The final passage of the conference report, embracing all of the bill except the cotton tax, Representatives Donohue of Pennsylvania and Larzaro Morgan and Broussard of Louisiana, democrats, voted against it, while Representatives Kelley of Pennsylvania, Pennsylvania, progressives and Rubley of Wisconsin, Stanford and Carey of Wisconsin and Kent of California, republicans, voted with the majority.

Speaker Clark took the floor in the last moments before the vote to congratulate the president, Representative Underwood, and the democratic party in general upon the success of the tariff program. He defended the caucus plan and ridiculed the suggestion of Representative Murdock that no tariff bills in the future would be drafted in this way.

KIDNAP GROOM
Former Lexington Man
Rescued by His Bride
After Thrilling Ride

BOSTON, Oct. 1.—Lewis F. Ames, formerly of Lexington, after announcing his elopement and marriage in New York to Miss O. Louise Perkins, a prominent young society woman of Fairhaven, was kidnapped in New Bedford by some of his friends, and rescued by a thrilling midnight ride, by his bride in a high-powered automobile.

Ames went to New Bedford to work in the employ of his uncle, Phineas C. Hendley. While at Fairhaven on a visit, he met Miss Perkins, who is the daughter of Oscar T. Perkins. After a very brief courtship they decided to elope to New York.

When their friends were told of the wedding they determined to take revenge on the couple for not sharing the secret with them. One evening last week, four or five young men waylaid Ames and took him in an automobile and took him to New Bedford, several miles away, where they left him locked up in a summer cottage which had been closed for the winter.

When her husband did not return to his home in the evening, young Mrs. Ames became worried, and although she supposed that some practical joke had been played, determined to hunt for him. At 11 o'clock she took out her automobile and, after making vain inquiries at Fairhaven and New Bedford, started for Ray View, where she suspected that he might have been hidden.

Examining every house that could be a possible hiding place, it was long after midnight before she found the cottage where he was imprisoned.

Neither she nor her husband are inclined to take the matter seriously, and quite readily forgave the lopers.

When Willard O. Ames, father of the bridegroom, was interviewed at his place of business, 53 State street, Boston, he said: "Of course, it was a great surprise to both of us, as we never expected that he had any intention of marrying. We have both met his wife, and think a great deal of her. She will be welcomed into our own home. We are planning an informal reception for her at her home in Lexington."

ARE INTERESTED

The membership teams of the Y. M. C. A. opened their full campaign last night at the Y. M. C. A. hall with a banquet and entertainment and from the hour that the 150 men gathered at association building until the same hour on October 14, an attempt will be made to increase the membership to what it should be in a city the size of Lowell.

At 6:30 o'clock the men sat down to a beautiful dinner in the large dining room and this was followed by speaking by several of the Y. M. C. A. directors and others interested in the campaign. Mr. F. A. Bowen acted as toastmaster during the evening and after brief remarks he introduced Mr. C. F. Fleming, commander-in-chief of the contest, who issued his orders to the various teams and captains. Other speakers were: Mr. A. O. Booth, field secretary of the Massachusetts and Rhode Island Young Men's Christian Association; Rev. Raymond G. NEARLY DROWNS
Amateur Houdini Almost Lost His Life
Doing Trick

MIDDLEBORO, Oct. 1.—Andrew Valois learned how to be a Houdini from a correspondence school, and almost lost his life by drowning when he attempted to free himself from a tank of water at the charity carnival of the Middleboro Lodge of Elks. A can-opener and a jack-knife saved Andrew and he's so happy that he's going to stick to the barbering business and let vaudeville alone.

When the local Elks were looking around for a feature act to decorate their midway, Andrew, whose central name is Charity, offered his services as a Houdini performer. He collected two galvanized cans, about the size of garbage receptacles, filled one with water and got inside, and then had the second one closed over him.

A committee of enthusiastic and admiring friends covered the cans with ropes and chains, while Andrew gurgled from within and said he'd be out with them in less than 30 seconds.

While 2000 Middleboro people gaped in wonderment at the platform where the correspondence school wizard was doing his escape act, the seconds began to flit away rapidly. Thirty of them passed and there was no splash to announce a Valois victory. Thirty more passed and some faces became blanched. It looked like a case of running water, and everybody howled to have the cans opened and Valois taken out.

When several more minutes had passed and Valois had not emerged from his prison of galvanized metal and water, the committee got busy with the can openers and knives and saved the performer. He was rushed to a nearby pharmacy, where a physician revived him finally.

And the great Houdini act was then canny by the committee.

Next Saturday is "Quarter Day" at The Lowell Five Cent Savings Bank.

DEPORT ELOPERS
The Immigration Men
Would Not Let Couple
Go Ashore

BOSTON, Oct. 1.—An elopement was spoiled yesterday on the Allan line steamer Numidian, which had just arrived from Glasgow, by Inspector John Ryder of the immigration corps when he halted Harry and Agnes Smith, cabin passengers, and would not permit them to go ashore.

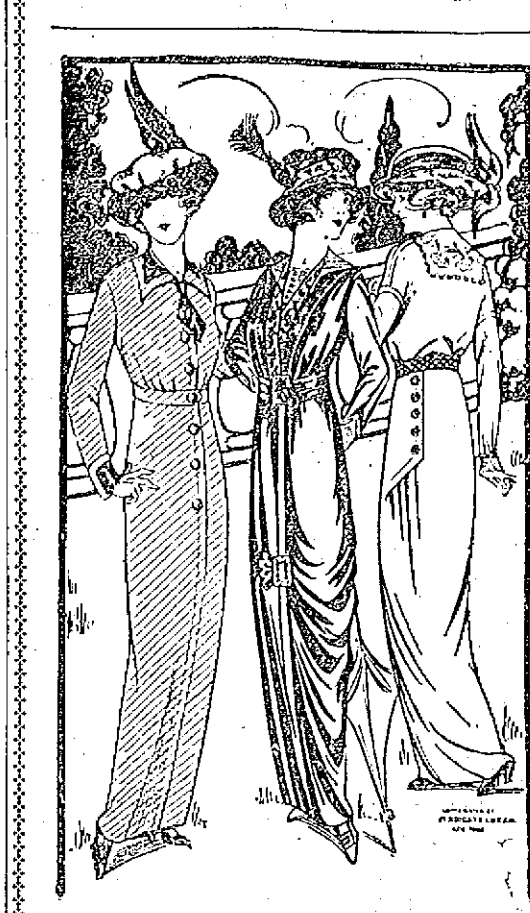

A separate questioning of Harry and Agnes showed that Inspector Ryder's suspicions were correct, each declaring it is alleged, that they deserted their respective mates to flee together. Although of the same name the pair are not related. As a result of the hearing the couple will be deported on the Numidian when she sails on her return trip.

THEY CAME BACK
Police Interfere With Plans of Two Boys Bound for Detroit

A sixteen-year-old boy, his chum and $500 all left this city last night together in search of adventure but their travels were rudely interrupted when the police of Manchester boarded the north bound train on which they were encoined and took them from their cosy apartment in the smoking car. Both boys had tickets for Detroit, Mich.

The sum of money which was traveling with the two boys had been deposited in a Lowell savings bank to the account of one of the boys. The money had been deposited there by the lad's parents, but the boy had taken the money to the bank himself. Therefore when he asked to have his account turned over to him the bank clerk did not smell a rat and did as requested. Summoning his chum, the boy with the $500 immediately bought two tickets for the Michigan city and the two embarked on the 8:38 train last night out of Lowell. Officer Clark, whose beat is around the Middlesex street depot, remembered seeing the youngsters board the train and the police in Manchester were asked to stop the train and take the two boys off. Neither of the pair of runaways will be prosecuted although more than $300 of the money they withdrew from the bank was spent when they were finally halted.

T. G. ROBBINS ELECTED

Principal of Evening High School
—Doctor A. E. Kent Will Have
Charge of Dental Clinic

Several important matters were discussed and acted upon by the school board in a prolonged regular session last night. Among other things, the standings of those who were successful in the recent examinations for evening school teachers were given out, the names being read in the order of rank. The meeting was called at 8:12 and it was nearly ten minutes past twelve when the motion to adjourn was made and carried.

At the opening, Mr. Campbell for the committee on text books and supplies, recommended an appropriation of $3000 with which to equip additional rooms in the industrial school according to the recommendation of the state board of education. This sum was voted.

The committee unanimously elected Miss Clara I. Farrington as clerk to the principal of the evening school, at a salary of $1.35 per evening.

Dr. Lambert read the report recommending the election of the following to positions in the evening high school: Thomas G. Robbins, principal, at five dollars an evening; Miss Eleanor Rivet, secretary, $1.50 per evening; Mr. Shanley and George C. Putnam, penmanship, $2.00 per evening; Albert D. Mack, head of stenography and typewriting, $2.00 per evening; George H. Donohue, bookkeeping, $2.00 per evening; Charles E. Seede, manual training, $2.00 per evening; J. J. Gulestan, $2.00; Madame Sarah Laporte, French, $2.00; and Miss Adelaide E. Noyes, elocution, $2.00.

This was the topic of a heated discussion. Candidates had been notified, through advertisements, to file their applications and statements of qualifications, because no one had appeared to take the examination for this position. The election of Thomas G. Robbins was recommended by the committee on evening schools in their report, his name having been selected from the applicants who filed their statements as requested. Mr. Farrington and Dr. Bagley were opposed to the election of Mr. Robbins, and favored Mr. Connors. Mr. Farrington especially making strong statements as to the qualifications of the applicant. Dr. Bagley inquired what particular qualifications Mr. Robbins possessed to fit him for the position. Dr. Lambert replied that he was a graduate of two colleges and had a broad experience as a teacher and a principal in the evening schools.

Violation of Rules
Mr. Farrington then stated that the election of Mr. Robbins would be a direct violation of the rules of the committee, which call for an examination. Chairman replied that no one had appeared to take the examination. Mr. Campbell then inquired of Mr. Farrington through the chair as to whether or not he had given his assent to the advertisements requesting applicants to file qualifications, and he replied that he had. However, he said, he did not say that in this way a principal should be chosen.

Dr. Bagley expressed himself as in favor of another examination for the position, and said that Mr. Connors would appear. There were several intimations as to the reasons of applicants for not appearing. "Will you go on and conduct an examination for principal of the evening high school next Saturday?" inquired Dr. Bagley of Dr. Lambert.

"Certainly will not," was the reply. Dr. Lambert said that one examination had been announced and that the applicants failed to appear. Therefore the matter should be disposed of in another way.

"There is another name on the list," said Mr. Farrington, "that of a young lady who stated before the filing of application that she was going to get the position and told another young lady that she would be wasting her time in taking the examination."

Then Mr. Farrington again came to the front and in a long and warm argument, denounced the action as a violation of several of the rules of the committee. He said he heard no suspension of the rules in the matter. He said that the election of Mr. Robbins was the work of the spoils system. He waxed eloquent and was ruled out of order by the chairman, who used his gavel vigorously, at the same time repeating, "I rule that out of order." The speaker continued to talk, however, and finally concluded Dr. Lambert said: "Your respect for the chair is great."

"When I am interrupted while talking to a motion, I am going to keep right on talking," was the reply of Mr. Farrington.

Mr. Robbins, together with the entire list was elected. Mr. Farrington and Dr. Bagley voting for Mr. Connors.

Some More Talk

There was another heated discussion when Dr. Lambert read a report recommending the election of Miss Ruth L. Eaton as a teacher in the commercial department of the high school at a salary of $850 per annum. Mr. Farrington arose to inquire as to what qualifications Miss Eaton had fitting her for this position, and Dr. Lambert replied that she is a graduate of the high school, Simmons college and has had several years' teaching experience. Mr. Farrington then said that there has been on file for over a year the application of a young lady for this position, and he thought that all other things being equal, her priority of application should be taken into consideration. He did not think that it was quite right that in view of her previous application, another should be elected at this late date. Miss Eaton was elected with Mr. Farrington and Dr. Bagley opposing.

Miss Florence May was elected secretary of the evening high school, being opposed by Mr. Farrington, who, however, did not object at length.

There were elected several janitors for the evening schools. All but one were day janitors, and the vote on this was unanimous.

The resignation of Alice T. Bessey, on leave of absence, and Miss M. Cragin, principal of the Lincoln kindergarten, were accepted and votes of thanks tendered the two. Miss Cragin has gone to California.

Superintendent Questioned

Mr. Farrington was disposed to criticize the action of Supt. Molloy who recommended several transfers in the grammar grades. Mr. Farrington inquired as to why Mr. Molloy recommended these transfers and the superintendent replied that it was because the member who had just spoken had recommended it. The superintendent's action was confirmed by the committee.

The leave of absence of Agnes G. Phelps was extended another year.

A petition from the school physicians, asking for an increase of salary to $400, was referred to the committee on finance.

A communication from the North American Civic League was read, recommending a tentative plan for leaving the school to take charge of the school clinic on the first ballot. The league asked for a small appropriation if possible. The committee voted to co-operate, but not to bind themselves to any appropriation.

It was voted to close one room in the Lyon street school, and transfer the teachers to a vacancy in the Colburn school. This was on recommendation of the superintendent.

Dr. Kent Elected

When the committee came to the election of a dentist to take charge of the school clinic on the first ballot Dr. Bagley voted for Dr. Fred Morris. Mr. Campbell for Dr. E. A. Kent. Mr. Farrington for Dr. Napoleon Provencier. Mr. Thompson and Dr. Lambert for Dr. Geo. Darling.

On the second ballot Dr. Bagley again voted for Dr. Morris. Mr. Campbell for Dr. Kent. Mr. Farrington shifted to Dr. Morris, and Mr. Thompson and Dr. Lambert voted for Dr. Kent, and Dr. Kent having received three votes, was declared elected.

Miss Clara I. Farrington was given leave of absence, and it was voted that Miss Adelaide Crowley, who is doing her work, receive the principal's pay in the Pond street school.

Miss Gookin, head of the household department, was voted an extra $100 for her extra evening work.

First grade certificates were granted to Joseph Donahue and Cornelius O'Neil, graduates of Dartmouth and Holy Cross colleges, respectively.

Leave to withdraw was voted, on the petition on which a hearing was granted, for the reinstatement of Mr. Reynolds as principal of the Riverside school.

Result of Examinations
The result of the recent examination for evening school positions was read. The examinations were conducted by a committee consisting of Supt. Hugh J. Molloy, Principal Cyrus W. Irish of the high school and Albert L. Bacheller, master of the Green school. The names of the successful candidates in the order of their rank, were as follows:

RT. REV. MGR. O'BRIEN

Talks in Most Optimistic Terms of Conditions in Ireland—Home Rule Certain

Monsignor William O'Brien of St. Patrick's church who has just returned from a trip to Ireland, was seen yesterday by a representative of The Sun and gave the following interview filled with a message of hope and optimism, and of intense interest to all who take their origin to the "beautiful Isle of the Sea" and all others who are interested in the struggle for liberty as exemplified by Ireland's long and bitter fight for self-government.

It was not necessary for The Sun representative to ask if Monsignor O'Brien enjoyed his trip, for he radiated happiness. His smile was kindly as formerly but there was a ruddy bloom of health on his cheeks which was not there when he started on his memorable vacation. On being congratulated on his fine physical appearance he said: "It is surely a fine country for rest and recreation. I enjoyed every moment of my stay and I feel better than I have felt for years. No one who loves Ireland could visit it at present without being made happy."

"You can say to the people of Lowell for me," said the Monsignor, "that as long as I've gone to Ireland, I have never seen its people so happy, contented and prosperous as at the present time."

"In my stay of more than two months I traveled into every section of the country, not only those places generally frequented by tourists such as Glengarriff, Killybegs, and the Lough Erne, but also into little hamlets nestled in the fens or on the mountain sides, and everywhere I saw a surpassing beauty of scenery and an apparently happy people. Of the scenery I shall not speak. In the long interview which Mr. J. O'Sullivan gave you on his return he painted glowing words pictures of its charm and variety, but of the economic conditions and the glowing political outlook I shall be glad to give the results of my personal observation."

"All over Ireland the people are looking forward unanimously almost to the certain advent of home rule next year. Nothing but a great and unforeseen upheaval such as the overthrow of the liberal government can prevent it. The Ulster bravado under Carson is not taken seriously in Ireland and is viewed as a laughable attempt to get advantage for the Ulster attitude which is the attitude of ascendancy. Premier Asquith has the absolute confidence of the people who regard him as a great and sincere statesman, and John Redmond is joyfully supported by practically the whole country. If any rule may mean a temporary loss to him, he does not dare express it so widespread is the belief in the principle of home rule."

"The conference proposed by Lord Loreburn would be worthless as a means of reconciliation to the Ulster minority, for Ulster holds the very idea of home rule and will consent to nothing which fosters it. I spoke to many of the great political leaders during my visit and they pointed out to me the splendid points of the home rule bill. Bligh Kelly, of Ross, whom I visited, did likewise and said that he considers the bill unprecedented in the liberality of its provisions. He is in a position to know for he was in direct touch with the framers of its provisions.

It was a matter of justifiable pride to me to reflect that the devotion and unselfish aid of Ireland's good and true American friends had helped materially to bring about the present conditions. No one who has not personally seen the result of the activity of the Irish party can realize the magnitude of the work that has been accomplished on the great and continuous basis of the finances of the Irish party. In caring for the tenantry, in Ireland, England and Scotland, all over the attacks of malicious, unscrupulous and wealthy foes, in meeting heavy election expenses, for a period of 20 years there were crying needs which called for an enormous expenditure, and the wonder is that so much has been done in the face of such determined opposition and so many serious obstacles. The money was well spent. The people have the utmost confidence in Mr. Redmond."

Another matter of gratification to me is the falling off in the emigration numbers. There is a strong movement all over the country to keep the young people at home and it is proving successful. This is indeed fortunate for almost impossible to get laborers. Most of the work on the county roads is now done by direct labor instead of by contract as formerly and this has given employment to thousands."

"Aside from the improvement in the general prosperity of the country as evidenced by better living and housing conditions, there has also been a great national revival which has made itself felt in the arts, in literature, in the popular amusements and in every branch of industrial life. The Gaelic League has been responsible for this in a great measure and it has made Ireland look to its national traditions and its glorious heritage for its inspiration."

"It was generally stated before I left Ireland that the crops this year will be the best that they have had for forty years. The spring was late and there was a great deal of rain but the weather conditions of the summer and early autumn have made the outlook of the farmer unusually rosy. Prices are good for farm produce and cattle and there is little poverty now in the country districts where a few years ago was misery and the awful wrong of evictions. It is indeed a great and wonderful country and I cannot dwell too strongly on its present flourishing condition and the fine prospect of prosperity and happiness ahead."

FOREST RANGERS

Show Marked Increase in Livestock Grazed During Past Year

A marked increase in the quantity of livestock grazed on national forest ranges during the past fiscal year is reported by the forest service. Nine and a half million domestic animals have been occupied during the summer in converting one of the by-products of the forests into meat, hides and wool. In addition, there were in round numbers, three hundred thousand calves and colts and two million lambs and kids exempt from permit and therefore not enumerated.

According to the figures gathered, the amount of stock grazed under permit during the year is over four per cent greater than for the previous year, while the number of permits using the forests for pasturage purposes was increased from 22,501 to 27,356. The total receipts by the government from grazing fees for the twelve months ending June 30, 1913, were $1,097,739, and the portion of this applied to schools and roads in the states in which the national forests are situated is about $22,708.

Grazing is second only to lumbering as a principal use of the national forests. Practically all of the national forests used extensively for grazing purposes are within the eleven states extending east from the Pacific coast, known as the "far western group." These states contain, according to latest reports, 5,548,000 cattle, 2,610,000 horses and mules, and 25,366,000 sheep. The national forests support in these states 17 per cent of the total number of cattle grazed, 3.45 per cent of horses and mules, and 27.5 per cent of sheep.

It is estimated that the annual product of these animals is 30,000 head of beef cattle of various ages and grades and 5,000,000 head of lambs and mutton sheep.

Since the average net meat weight of a beef animal is 215 pounds, of a lamb 37 pounds, and of a sheep 57 pounds, the stock grazed on national forests in the eleven far western states produce annually about 155 million pounds of beef and 212 million pounds of mutton. In addition, it is said the wool grown totals 25,000,000 pounds, hides approximately 300,000 in number, and pelts 5,000,000.

This output, according to the forest service, does not involve any material sacrifice of forest or watershed protection or permanent forage productivity on the national forests. The system of range management applied by the government has proved, it is claimed, effective and simple, and the quality and quantity of the national forage crop is said to be improving each year.

PUMPING ENGINE

Seagrave Machine Gave Demonstration at the Boulevard Yesterday

About 1003 gallons of water a minute was pumped at the boulevard yesterday. The pumping was done by a Seagrave pumping engine. The engine is going from city to city giving demonstrations. It came to Lowell last night from Haverhill. The pressure today was 52 pounds at the nozzle and 138 on the engine and the local firemen who watched the demonstration said it was the biggest stream they had ever seen. The pumping engine weighs eight tons and, they say, it looks good to Alderman Barrett. The water, this afternoon, was drawn from the river.

ASSAULT CASE

Heard at Afternoon Session of Court—Defendant Fined

Two cases were held over from yesterday morning's session of police court until the afternoon.

Andrew Kuchaski and John Chioska were charged with assault and battery upon Hattigini and Paul Babola. John J. McGuire, Esq., handled the case for the defense.

Each side of the cases put on several witnesses whose testimony was procured by the aid of an interpreter. Chioska was found not guilty and discharged, but Kuchaski was adjudged guilty and ordered to pay a fine of $20.

Louis H. Cohen pleaded not guilty to the charge of non-support of his wife and two minor children. The defendant comes from Boston and was represented today by Thomas G. Robbins, Esq., while Attorney O'Connor appeared for the prosecution. The defendant was found guilty and ordered to pay $5 each week toward the support of his family. He appealed.

WIDOWS' PENSION ACT

Reported That Woman With Seven or Eight Children Was Asked if $2 a Week Would Suffice

While quite a number have applied for assistance under the act providing for widows with dependent children, very little, if anything, has actually been done by the local charity department.

There isn't any reason why there should be any beating about the bush. The Sun, a few days ago, reported a hearing before the state board of charities relative to this act and the state board members said, very plump and plain, that it was up to the local boards.

Representatives of charity departments of different cities and towns tried to have the state board fix a minimum sum to be paid widows with dependent children, but the board refused to do that.

What the state board did say was that the local boards would have to use their own best judgment. All bills must be approved by the state board and if the state board thinks a bill is exorbitant it will investigate. The state board allows that the assistance under the new act will be much more liberal than under the old law and to be assisted under the old law meant pauperism.

It was reported yesterday that 2 inspectors from the local board of charities visited a widow who has several dependent children. This woman, for the last year, and perhaps two years, has been assisted by a man and woman in their neighborhood. These two people, man and wife, gave freely of their time, money and attention to this widow and her family and when the law providing for the assistance of widows with dependent children went into effect the good, generous couple were very thankful, for they could see some relief from the burden that they had taken upon themselves. They got a copy of the act and looked the matter up thoroughly. The husband went to the office of the board of charities at city hall and talked the matter over. The act was then not very well understood even at the office of the board of charities. The promise was made, however, that inspectors would be sent to the home of the widow and her dependent children, seven or eight in all. The inspectors, it is alleged, asked all kinds of personal questions and upon leaving the house, one of them, described as a big fat man, asked the poor widow if $2 a week would be enough.

more than two miles a minute. Observers were thrilled by the marvelous speed of Prevost's wide winged monoplane. The flying machine at one moment seemed like a bird in the distance, a few seconds later the craft was passing with shrilly whirling propeller and then again rapidly dwindled in size, flying at terrific speed.

Try the sure and most effective way to reach the raw, tender inflamed mucous membrane infected with catarrh germs—breathe Hyomei. All druggists sell it.

You cannot reach the nooks and crevices of the breathing organs with liquid preparations; there is only one way—breathe a few times daily the germ-destroying air of Booth's Hyomei. It acts directly on the inflamed membranes and destroys the catarrhal germs.

If you suffer from offensive breath, raising of mucus, frequent sneezing, husky voice, discharge from the nose, droppings in the throat, spasmodic coughing, or any other symptoms of catarrh, use Hyomei at once. It will destroy the disease germs in the nose, throat and lungs, and give quick and permanent relief, or money refunded by Carter & Sherburne.

The complete outfit including pocket inhaler and bottle of liquid costs $1.00, extra bottles of liquid if later needed, 50 cents.

N. Y. Men Report That They Are Menace to Public Health

3,800,000 Square Feet of Billboard Advertising in "Big Town"

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—After an eight months' study of the billboard problem in New York the special commission appointed by the late Mayor Gaynor has arrived at the conclusions embodied in a book of over 150 pages.

The findings of the commission are that the billboard constitutes a nuisance because of its unsightliness, that it constitutes further fire hazard in many places and also a menace to public health on account of the rubbish it often hides. A restriction of the use of the billboard is recommended, including proposals to tax such advertisements, to establish a censorship on designs, to authorize health officials to prohibit large electric signs where they are found to interfere with sleep in residential districts and both health and fire officials to order removal of all signs which are a menace to health and safety.

"New York city," says the report, "has probably more billboards, roof signs and illuminated advertising signs than any city in the world." In the whole city it is estimated there is a total of 3,800,000 square feet of billboard advertising with an income to the advertising companies of more than a million dollars a year. It was added that there is "serious doubt" whether billboard advertising is as profitable to the merchant as other forms of advertising.

NO CAUSE FOR ALARM

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Oct. 1.—More than 300 persons, representing cotton interests of the New England and southern states and their guests from many parts of the world, applauded the stand taken by Edwin Farnham Greene, president of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers in his address relative to the tariff, at the opening session of the semi-annual convention of the association here last night. Mr. Greene said that while the best informed cotton manufacturers would naturally look with alarm "on any such radical change as is being made by the tariff bill, the high efficiency of our mills and the comparative proximity of the markets may enable us to compete successfully with the foreigner."

Boy Who Was Expelled Set Off Dynamite—5 Were Injured

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Oct. 1.—Because he was expelled from a mock school which several little playmates established yesterday, John Kersbach broke up the session by discharging a dynamite cap and severely injured himself and four others. Kersbach was "expelled" because he was unruly. He departed but soon returned with a dynamite cap in one hand and two stones in the other. Placing the cap on one stone he dealt it a blow with the other. An explosion followed and the five children, ranging in age from three to eight years were struck by flying pieces of stone and their heads, arms and faces were badly lacerated.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—Charges of corruption filed against Representative Richard S. Whaley of South Carolina by Mayor John P. Grace of Charleston, S. C., were referred to the elections committee for investigation. Grace

The banner will be taken to Washington by train and next Friday will be carried by relay of turner boys from Washington to Hoboken, there to be received by the captain of the steamer Koenigstein Lutz as a special messenger, who will convey it to Germany.

Rheumatic Pains Promptly Disappear

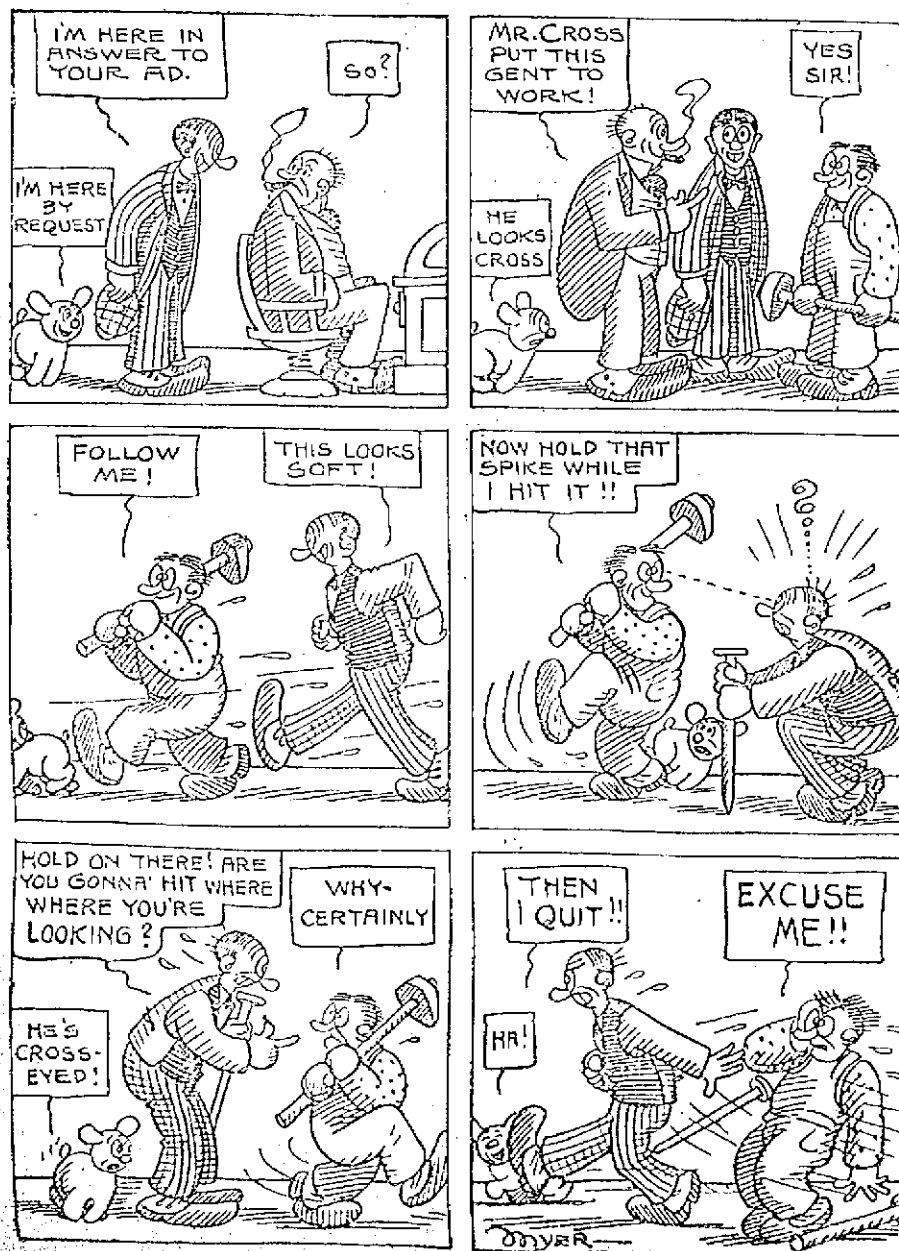

Relief Comes After Taking Few Doses of Croxone

It is needless to suffer with rheumatism, and be all crippled up, and bent out of shape with its heart-wrenching pains, when you can avoid it.

Rheumatism comes from weak, inactive kidneys, that fail to filter from the blood the poisonous waste matter and uric acid; and the only way to overcome it is to remove the cause. Croxone does this because it neutralizes and dissolves the poisonous substances and uric acid that lodge in the joints and muscles, to scratch and irritate and cause rheumatism, and cleans out and strengthens the stopped up, inactive kidneys, so they can filter the poison from the blood, and drive it on and out of the system.

Croxone is a truly remarkable medicine for rheumatism, kidney troubles and bladder disorders. You will find it differs from other remedies. There is nothing else just like it. It matters not how old you are, or how long you have suffered, it is practically impossible to take it without results. Relief follows the first few doses, and you will be surprised how quickly all misery and suffering will end.

An original package of Croxone costs but a trifle and all druggists are authorized to sell it on a positive money-back guarantee. Three doses a day for a few days is often all that is ever needed to overcome the worst backache or urinary disorders.

LET GARBAGE ROT

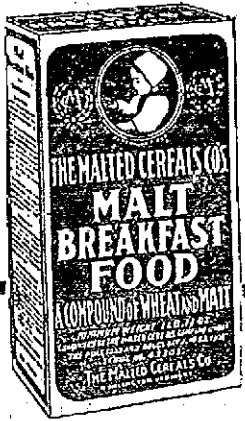

Ultimatum of Chicago
Co. — Mayor Calls a
Special Meeting

CHICAGO, Oct. 1.—Mayor Harrison today called a special meeting of the council for tonight to determine some method of disposing of the city's garbage. At midnight the plant of the Chicago Reduction Co., which has taken care of the refuse, was closed, following the ignoring of the company's ultimatum served yesterday upon city officials that unless it was paid $192,000 in cash by 12 o'clock "we will let the garbage rot in Chicago's alleys."

Aroused by the menace of several hundred tons of garbage accumulating daily in Chicago, many aldermen asserted today that the city would be justified in exercising its police power and seize the plant. A settlement with the company could be made later, they said.

As alternatives, the city can dump the garbage in clayholes, or deodorizing the garbage by some solution.

THE SULZER CASE

of impeachment managers, intimated that the entry was made later than this date. It made his debt for securities appear as a loan.

Further attempts to get into the record the story of how Louis A. Sarecky was given a $4000 per year position in the immigration service at the behest of the governor and later refused to testify before the Frawley committee, were expected. Sarecky was subpoenaed as a witness last week, but he was not called to the stand.

A report from Buffalo yesterday said that W. J. Connors of that city had been called to testify today. The board of managers' counsel refused to tell along what line he would be questioned.

Personal Statement

At the opening of the morning session Melville B. Fuller of the brokerage firm of Harris & Fuller was granted permission to make a personal statement to the court.

Mr. Fuller first referred to headlines in various evening papers referring to his testimony which he said misrepresented his firm.

"I have concealed nothing," the witness declared. "I testified frankly and freely before the Frawley committee, although I understood—"

At this point Attorney Stanchfield interrupted, claiming that comment on the Frawley committee "exceeded the province of a personal statement."

Judge Cullen sustained the attorney in his contention. The presiding judge also cut short the statement by informing the witness that if he had been misrepresented in any newspaper he had recourse to the courts.

Judge Cullen told the witness to confine himself to a personal statement and not comment on the court proceedings.

"The books of my firm are absolutely correct," Mr. Fuller then said. "No balances were forced. No items were omitted or concealed in them to protect Sulzer or anyone else."

Refused to Answer

Samuel M. Frank, a stenographer was called to verify certain testimony given by Louis Sarecky, Governor Sulzer's campaign secretary, before the Frawley investigating committee. Sarecky at the time refused to answer any questions concerning the governor's campaign expenses unless he could be represented by counsel. Counsel was denied him.

Mr. Stanchfield stated the position of the assembly managers. He said they were to show by the testimony Sarecky gave before the Frawley committee that when the governor appointed Sarecky as deportation agent Sulzer knew the manifest, the palpable unfitness of Sarecky to occupy the position. The testimony shows the intimacy between Sulzer and Sarecky from the latter's boyhood. It also shows the difference in the salary Sarecky received as Sulzer's secretary as state deportation agent, from $1500 to $2500 in the former and $4000 in the latter.

Evidence of Bribery

"This testimony," Mr. Stanchfield continued, "will present the strongest possible circumstantial evidence of bribery. And when I say bribery, I say it advisedly. To be guilty of bribery does not mean that a person has to pass something to another person so tangible that the person may take it in his hand or put it in his pocket. Other kinds of bribery are more insidious."

At this point Judge Weidner interrupted to ask if Sarecky were to be called as a witness.

Mr. Hinman informed him that

Sarecky was under subpoena from the manager's counsel.

"But," interrupted Mr. Stanchfield, "you need not understand from that fact that the managers are going to make him their witness."

"We never thought you would," interrupted Judge Herrick, the governor's chief counsel.

Presiding Judge Cullen then ruled that Mr. Stanchfield in reading the Sarecky testimony must confine himself to the parts in which Sarecky refused to answer the questions concerning the campaign contributions.

Resigned as Secretary

John C. Birdseye, secretary of the civil service commission, who testified yesterday, was recalled to testify regarding the appointment of Sarecky as deportation agent of the state hospital commission. He identified a letter written to the commission by Chester Platt, secretary to the governor, requesting the commission to note that Sarecky had resigned as confidential secretary to the governor on July 13.

He also identified a letter from the state hospital commission to the civil service commission requesting a suspension of rules to permit Sarecky to be appointed deportation agent at a salary of $4000. This was followed by another letter from the commission recommending Sarecky on the ground that "he masters five languages" and was "peculiarly equipped for the position by reason of his knowledge of the language of the races which largely constitute our state hospital population."

The letter asked that Sarecky be placed in the "exempt class" of the civil service rules.

Birdseye said that it was about this correspondence, the commission held a meeting July 30, 1913, at which a resolution was passed giving Sarecky the position "with the approval of the governor."

The governor gave his approval, said Birdseye and Sarecky was appointed. Sarecky's appointment to this position, Birdseye said, was the first instance of a layman getting the position.

Harvey Hinman of counsel for the governor cross-examined the witness and read into the record a section of the state insanity law providing that the bureau of deportation consist of a medical examiner and such "medical and lay assistants as shall be deemed necessary."

Stock Exchange Bill

Robert Cumming, chief of the legislative bill drafting department, was questioned concerning the drafting of the "stock exchange reform bills" recommended by the governor.

The witness said he went to the executive chamber at the request of the governor and the executive then submitted memoranda and asked him to draw up the bills. Later, he said, the governor summoned him again, gave him more memoranda and had more bills drawn. Among the latter was the stock exchange incorporation bill, which was introduced but never reported from the senate judiciary committee.

"What, if anything, did the governor say to you regarding the so-called incorporation bill?" asked Atty. Todd for the managers.

"He simply asked me to hurry the drafting, as he said he wanted it introduced as soon as possible."

The bills were drawn in accordance with the governor's request, the witness said, and were delivered to Senator Stillwell and Assemblyman Levy by the governor.

Mr. Cumming was not cross-examined. Mr. Todd then offered the governor's special message to the legislature recommending that the provisions of the corrupt practices bill be made applicable to the amount of money a candidate may spend for nomination, as well as for election.

brokerage firm of Fuller and Gray was examined for the assembly managers by former Senator Brackett.

Colwell Had Desk Room

F. L. Colwell had desk room in the firm's office, but was not employed by the firm, he said.

Gray said the last time he saw Colwell the latter had told him he was going to Albany. This was on the day on which the Frawley committee held its last session. He said he was going to see one of the committeemen.

"Did you meet Colwell in October, 1912, in respect to opening an account?" asked Attorney Brackett.

"Yes. He asked me in my Yonkers office to get a quotation on 'Big Four.' I quoted it and he gave me an order to buy 100 shares at a specified price. He did not get the stock until a few days later. Colwell did not make a deposit against the stock until the day it was delivered in the Yonkers office. There were two deposits, one of $1500 and one of $1000."

"Was there never any salary of $50 a week paid to Colwell?"

"Oh, well," replied Gray, "he acted as my private secretary, for which I paid him $50 a week."

"How long was he so employed?"

"For about eight months, up to Oct. 22, 1912."

"When was the 'Big Four' delivered?"

"Oct. 31."

Gray said he had made no inquiry why the payments were made in cash and had not asked where the cash had come from.

SEN. LODGE IMPROVING

SENATOR SPENT A QUIET NIGHT—SLEPT SO NOILY—FAMILY EXPECTS RECOVERY SOON

NAHANT, Oct. 1.—A quiet night was passed by United States senator Henry Cabot Lodge and the nurses said early today that the patient was resting comfortably. His pulse and temperature, they announced, both were normal. The physicians planned to visit the senator early in the afternoon.

Senator Lodge, who was operated on last week for gastric ulcer, lies in his favorite room in his oceanside home. It is a room with southwest exposure, looking out over the picturesque Nahant cliffs to the broad expanse of Massachusetts bay.

An encouraging report was issued later by Dr. Francis B. Harrington, one of the surgeons, after less than an hour at the Lodge house. Dr. Harrington said:

"This morning Senator Lodge is improving and there is every indication that he will make a splendid recovery. He has been improving from the start and my visit this morning found him in a most comfortable condition after a restful night with the pulse and temperature normal."

TWO MILITANTS ARRESTED HERE ARE THE QUESTIONS

Engaged in Fierce Scrimmage With Police in London—Were Recently Liberated

LONDON, Oct. 1.—A fierce scrimmage between the police and the suffragettes occurred today when Beatrice Saunders, financial secretary of the women's political union, and Harriet Kerr, the secretary, were arrested at the headquarters of the militant organization in Kingsway under the provisions of the "cat and mouse" act. Miss Saunders is under sentence of 15 months and the Kerr woman of nine months. They were sent to jail recently but were later liberated after a "hunger strike."

The two women had resumed their duties this morning for the first time since the raid on their offices April 22. When the police arrived to arrest them the office staff rushed to their leaders' rescue and bravely assaulted the policemen. Four other women were arrested for obstructing the police in the execution of their duty.

MANY FEAR FOR SAFETY

HUNDREDS OF MEXICANS FLEE TO AMERICAN SOIL OWING TO SERIOUS OUTBREAKS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—Although a great exodus of Americans from Nogales, across the Rio Grande, into Texas, has taken place within the last 24 hours, officials here pointed out today that only a smaller portion of them are Americans. Hundreds of Mexicans have been concentrating in Ciudad Nogales from the interior of Coahuila and many of these, fearing for their safety in the expected occupation of the constitutionalists' capital by Mexican federalists have sought an asylum on American soil.

Officials at the war department are not alarmed over the situation now that the border patrol has been reinforced by additional soldiers from Fort Sam Houston and they suggested today that the presence of a machine gun platoon on the American side at the international bridge would in all likelihood insure protection, regardless of the straits in which the hard pressed constitutionalists may find themselves.

Constituting the Examination for Evening School Teachers—Big Interest Manifested in Them

As the recent examinations for qualification as principals and teachers of the evening schools aroused considerable interest among the residents of this city, there is no doubt that the questions which the candidates were required to answer will hold interest for a great many. It is possible that they might be found useful from an educational standpoint; for instance, if some people would, without preparation, try and see how many of these questions they can answer correctly, they might possibly discover weak points in their knowledge of the elementary branches, although the questions themselves are quite simple and not calculated to "test" candidates. Again, it may be that they will be useful to those who intend in the future to try for positions as teachers in the evening schools, giving them an idea of the character of the tests. Following are the questions in arithmetic, history and English, from the examination for principals and teachers of the elementary evening schools:

ARITHMETIC

1. What part of a dollar is 64 cents? 12-2 cents? 15-3 cents, 21-2 cents?

2. Reduce .13 to ten thousandths. Change .015 to a common fraction. Divide 600 by 62-3.

3. Find the cost of 250 yards of muslin at 33-1 cents a yard. Multiply by the short method and explain the process as you would to a class.

4. A dry goods dealer paid $225 for newspaper advertising and $75 for circulars. What per cent of his total outlay was for newspaper advertising, and what per cent for advertising by circulars?

5. A farmer sold his horse at a gain of $30 or 25 per cent. Find the cost. Do the work by analysis.

6. What monthly rent should be charged for a house costing $10,240 in order that 6 per cent interest on the investment may be realized?

HISTORY

1. (a) Name some battle of the Revolution that was fought in Massachusetts. (b) Where, and to whom did Lord Cornwallis surrender his army?

2. (a) In what year, and where did the first inauguration of Washington take place? (b) How many states made up the Union when Washington began to serve? (c) How many states made up the Union today?

3. (a) How did the United States get possession of the territory out of which the states of Missouri and California were made? (b) How was the territory of the United States increased when Johnson was president?

4. If our president should die, and we had no vice-president, what official would become president?

5. (a) What great battle of our Civil war was fought in Pennsylvania? (b) What generals led the two armies in this battle? (c) What very important event occurred Jan. 1, 1863?

ENGLISH

1. Write a sentence using (a) that as a conjunction; (b) that as an adjective; (c) well as an adjective; (d) well as an adverb; (e) attempt as a noun.

2. "The only sound which fills the air, is the sluggish murmur of the river, as it glides under the walls of the castle." Name the principal and the subordinate clauses and parse the connectives.

3. Name the adjective modifiers.

4. If you wish me to be your companion, you must wait for me. Parse to be and companion.

5. Correct: (a) This man with his sons were founders of a nation. (b) When a man or a thing are wanted, they generally appear.

6. Correct: (a) Each of them must answer for themselves. (b) He writes plainer than he once did.

7. Write from memory eight lines of poetry.

8. Write in prose: "Near yonder copse, where once the garden smiled, And still where many a garden flower grows wild, There, where a few torn shrubs the place disclose, The village preacher's modest mansion rose."

A man he was to all the country dear, And passing rich on forty pounds a year. Remote from towns he ran his godly race, Nor e'er had changed, nor wish'd to change his place."

LT. GOV. WALSH REPLIES

SAYS TOUR THROUGH STATE WITH BIRD WOULD BE UNFAIR TO REST OF DEMOCRATIC TICKET

BOSTON, Oct. 1.—The belief that the state and local candidates of the democratic party are entitled to the assistance of the head of the ticket in their campaign is all that prevents David I. Walsh from accepting the invitation of Charles S. Bird to accompany him on his tour of the state and debate with him the issues of the campaign, according to a letter sent yesterday by Mr. Walsh to Mr. Bird.

The letter follows:

"My Dear Mr. Bird: I have your recent letters inviting me to join you in your tour throughout the Commonwealth in the presentation of the issues which the electorate of Massachusetts will render a verdict upon on Nov. 4.

"My first inclination was to accept your invitation, upon certain conditions, but upon reflection and consultation with my associates upon the state ticket I must decline your invitation. I feel that I owe my associates on the state ticket and the democratic candidates for county clerk and the legislature some special consideration, and that they are entitled to my services.

"To accept your invitation would mean that my associates upon the state ticket would have to make their campaign alone and without the benefit of the presence of the candidate for governor, which always serves in obtaining a larger attendance at public meetings, thereby giving local and state candidates the advantage of meeting more of their fellow-citizens. "In view of the fact that I desire to cooperate in the promotion of the election of all democratic candidates as much as my own, you will understand, I am sure, why I do not accept your very generous offer, which you have unquestionably made in good faith, and in the interest of assisting the electorate of Massachusetts to obtain a better knowledge of our views on public questions. Very respectfully yours, "David I. Walsh."

Leut. Gov. Walsh had a long talk with Chairman Riley of the state committee yesterday over campaign plans. Last night Riley, with Chairman Fague of the democratic legislative committee and Charles F. Rindard, treasurer of the state committee, visited the democratic committee in Stoughton, Randolph and Sharon, stirring up enthusiasm. Edward P. Barry, democratic candidate for lieutenant governor, who is in New Hampshire for a rest, sent word to his friends in Boston yesterday that he is still opposed to Thomas P. Riley for chairman of the democratic state committee and that he will have nothing to do with him in the campaign. Barry says he will run his own campaign.

MAN WIELDS A KNIFE

NIGHT SWITCHMAN OF BOSTON & MAINE RAILROAD STABS A FELLOW WORKMAN

BOSTON, Oct. 1.—Fred Crosby, 37 years old, a night switchman of the Boston & Maine railroad at the Mystic Junction yards, Somerville, claiming that he had been persecuted by fellow workmen and in particular by John D. Deady, a brakeman, 23 years old, of 19 Pearl street, South Framingham, drew a pocket knife at 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon and stabbed Deady in the right breast and then slashed him across the right wrist at the Prospect Hill railroad station, Somerville.

Deady went to the office of Dr. George F. Hughes on Cross street and was sent at once to the Somerville hospital, where it was determined that while the wounds were severe they were not of a serious character.

Baseball and the other summer sports are fast passing into oblivion for another year and the winter sports will soon be in full swing. The local alleys will resound to the tune of dinging pins before long and the bawling leagues will be heard at it.

As predicted in this column Eddie Murphy made a mark of Matty Baldwin last night in their bout at the Boston club. Murphy's left hand did all the damage and Baldwin found the South Boston boxer too clever for his rushing tactics. His win of last night's contest gives Murphy the title of lightweight champion of New England.

Yale and Princeton athletic authorities are endeavoring to arrange a boat race between the two universities for the fall. If the proposed event goes through it will be the first big inter-collegiate contest that ever was pulled off during the autumn months.

Tyler Day proved a frost so far as attendance was concerned yesterday at the home grounds of the Boston Braves. The southpaw who once worked his salary whip for the Lowell club pitched great ball however, and stood the Giant rookies on their heads. The National league champions got but seven hits from Tyler.

Manager Jimmy Gray of the Lowell club was not to be forgotten yesterday when the pitcher that he brought out was receiving gifts from his friends and admirers. The local manager presented his former twirler with a pair of diamond cuff links.

Young, the captain and star half back of the Pennsylvania football team, is at present laid up in the hospital. His injury is a unique one for a football player, for it was brought on by wearing too small a shoe. If blood poisoning does not set in his foot will be in condition to again trot on to the gridiron within a week. He will be missed sadly in Saturday's game.

The larger college eleven have already started their secret practice work. It is rather early in the season for secret practice but the various athletic heads, with the possible exception of Harvard, are hard put to it this year for an early organization.

Yale, Princeton and Dartmouth all look weak at this time. Their squads are all below the usual standard and all three coaching staffs will have their hands fully occupied if they are to turn out a team to be feared.

Shortly Dee, Pete Clemens, Eddie Miller and Jack Halstein are all that are left in town now of the Lowell team. Dee lives in Lynn, Halstein in Pittsfield, Miller in Ansonville, Pa., and Clemens in Westbury, N. Y. They all intend to leave town this week for their respective homes.

Captain Harry McDavitt of the Salem high school football team is coming in for a bad roasting at the hands of the Salem parents who have children in the high school. It was stated that McDavitt gave the players on his team strychnine for a stimulant during their recent game with the Swampscott schoolboys. McDavitt, however, denies emphatically that he ever administered any dope.

Jack Dillon and Gus Christie have been matched to fight ten rounds in Terre Haute, Ind., next week. Both are sterling men and each one has announced himself as the middleweight champion. Neither of them, however, seems to be particularly anxious to mix it up with Frank Klaus.

The Athletics and the Giants are both playing their substitutes these days, while the regulars are resting up for the strenuous contests of the world's series. Muggsy McGraw and Connie McIlhenny are again trying to out-guess each other.

SNODGRASS, GIANT OUTFIELDER, SAYS HE WON'T DROP THE BALL AGAIN

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Fred Snodgrass was the most unpopular player of the Giant team after the deciding game of last year's world series. His playing, brilliant for the most part, became of the bonehead variety at the crucial and deciding moment, with the result that the Boston Red Sox won the series. Giant rosters roared.

Snodgrass so hard when he muffed that final fly that the fans wondered if he would ever dare to appear in uniform again. But such things are the spice of baseball. After all, and Snodgrass kept right on, with the result that he has been one of the best outfielders on the team. But his friends hope he won't drop the ball again. He says he won't.

and 30 injured, but there are many missing.

A stream which passes through the city was soon over its banks and flooded the streets. In a hardware establishment where large quantities of gasoline, petroleum, alcohol and other inflammables and a cash of calcium carbide were stored, the water dissolved the chemical and enormous volumes of gas were formed. A terrific explosion occurred which completely wrecked two buildings and enveloped two others in flames. Three persons who were passing at the time were killed outright. Five families were buried in the ruins.

JAPAN MAKES DEMANDS

WANTS GEN. CHANG-HSUN, THE COMMANDER AT NANKING, JAPAN, TO RESIGN

LONDON, Oct. 1.—The Tokio correspondent of the Times says: "Despite the apology of Gen. Chang-Hsun, the Chinese commander at Nanking, Japan, will still insist upon his resignation as governor of Kiang-Su, which it is confidently expected will be tendered in due time. Japan also demands the punishment of those who took part in the Nanking outrages. This attitude of the government has the backing of the whole Japanese press."

MAY MEET EDDIE MURPHY

Bay Wood of Fall River and Terry Brooks of New York are training hard for their bout, which will be staged by the Lowell A. C. on Friday evening. Each is anxious to win, and will work hard to be the victor.

Both are veterans of meeting Eddie Murphy, who last night defeated Matty Baldwin and this is an added incentive for putting forth their best efforts. In the semi-final Friday night clash, Lennox and Willie Green will clash. Two good preliminaries will also be pulled off.

COURT HOUSE IMPROVEMENTS

The work of remodeling a section of the office of the registry of deeds on Gorham street preparatory to installing counters and filing cases is practically completed and before the end of the present week it is expected that the work of erecting the counters will be started.

To comply with the law it is necessary to have more room in the registry than there is at the present time. About one month ago three improvements were started and the corridor that runs from the entrance to the registry and a small room on the North side of the building to have been made into one large room. Filing cases and safe deposit boxes are to be installed immediately and in a few weeks the work will be completed and the office will be up-to-date in every way.

HUNTERS JAY SHOOT ANIMAL IN EIGHT MAINE COUNTIES TOMORROW

BANGOR, Me., Oct. 1.—Deer shooting in the eight northern counties of Maine will begin on Wednesday, the season continuing as heretofore and to including December 15. There are no changes in the deer law, except that the license fee for non-resident hunters has been increased from $15 to $25, this including moose. The moose season, formerly running from October 15 to December 1, is now confined to the month of November.

Wardens, woodsmen and others say that the big game wintered well, owing to mildness of the weather and the absence of heavy snow, and that both deer and moose appear to be better more numerous than last season. As for the moose, the increase or decrease is difficult if not impossible to determine on account of the roving habits of the animals, but the general belief is that under protection the game has become more plentiful in the last few years.

RESCUING PARTY WORKING HARD TO REACH ENTOMBED MINER AT CENTRALIA, PA.

CENTRALIA, Pa., Oct. 1.—The rescuing party at the Continental mine of the Lehigh Valley Coal Co., which is trying to reach Thomas Toskesky, a miner who was entombed last Friday, this morning arrived at a point which showed that 40 feet of solid coal and rock would have to be cut through to enable them to crawl in and release the imprisoned man.

Toskesky is undergoing the ordeal bravely in his isolated little prison one hundred feet below the surface. Frequently during the night, he conversed with the rescuers, his remarks being heard very clearly through the tubes of tubing penetrating the coal breast from an adjoining chamber. Since a blanket was pushed through the tube to him yesterday he feels more comfortable. He said the water was dripping from the roof and that his prison was beginning to grow damp, while the atmosphere was becoming heavy. Unless he is soon rescued he may perish for want of fresh air, mining experts say. Toskesky frequently asks about his wife and four children. He begs the rescuers to tell his wife that he should worry as little as possible.

Saturday, October 4th, is "Quarter Day" at The Lowell Five Cent Savings Bank.

Players Fraternize Defies Ruling of National Commission

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Baseball players who write articles for newspapers on the coming world's series will have the support of the Baseball Players' Fraternity, it was announced yesterday by David I. Fultz, lawyer, who is president of the organization. Fultz made a statement regarding the rule laid down by the national commission, prohibiting players of the competing teams from writing on the championship games or allowing their names to be signed to articles written by others.

Officials of the New York National club announced yesterday they have returned $50,000 to persons who sent the money to buy tickets to the championship games. Under the rules, no mail orders for tickets are to be honored and would-be purchasers must avail their terms at the gates.

L. H. Costello, representing the national baseball commission, last night issued the following statement relative to press reservations at the Polo grounds and Shibe park:

K.O. BROWN COMES BACK

HAD BETTER OF DANNY RIDGE IN DUTY IN NEW YORK CLUB LAST EVENING

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—"Knockout" Brown, the rugged East Side light-weight, made his first appearance in a local ring since his return from the Pacific coast and had the better of Danny Ridge in a 10-round bout last night. Ridge did superior work in the first three rounds. Brown went to the floor from a hard right to the jaw in the first round, but he was up immediately. After the third round Brown's experience told and he outboxed Ridge in the next six rounds. The 10th was even, both men trying hard for a knockout. Both weighed about 125 pounds.

LOOKS LIKE BIG SEASON

At Y. M. C. I.—Doors Were Thrown Open Last Night

And Alleys Resounded With Rumble of Balls and Crash of Pins

The Y. M. C. I. was certainly no place for a nervous man last night when the doors were thrown open for the winter season and judging from the interest shown by the members it is going to be the biggest and best in the history of the society. Both the single and married members began to gather with their friends shortly after 7 o'clock and the fun started in earnest. Once more the alleys resounded with the rumble of balls and the crash of pins as the beneficiaries and the single men struggled for supremacy. Occasionally these sounds were drowned by the cheers of the "rooters" who lined both sides of the alleys and showed as much interest as the warriors themselves. From the pool tables came the clicking of the ivory, as the "sharks" shot ball after ball into the pockets. From the card room came the sound of a Victrola playing all the latest pieces to make merry for the card players who battled at whist and pitch, and also for the checker artists who sat for hours doing out their plays. After the games, the members retired to the main hall where a light musical program was carried out. It was opened with a short address by President Flanagan who introduced Brothers McGuire and Meahan and they favored with a duet on the violin and piano. Solos were rendered by Mr. John Y. Myers, Jack McCaffrey, William March, and Frank McMartin. Who made a hit with the crowd when he sang "Somebody Has Come to My House," which, by the way, was very appropriate. Tom Higgins recited his "Awakening of China" in grand style and the program closed with singing by the entire audience. It was well on to midnight when the members started for their homes and all agree that when it comes to arranging a good time, you will have to take your hat off to Bill Marren who had charge of the arrangements.

MATRIMONIAL

Billings, pastor of the First Unitarian church. The maid of honor was the bride's sister, Miss Alice Billings, while the best man was Mr. Edward Coffin of Newburyport. A reception followed the ceremony and later in the evening the happy couple left on a honeymoon trip. On their return they will make their home in Clitheroe street.

MURDERED 7 WITH AXE

NANTES, France, Oct. 1.—A crime of incredible savagery was committed yesterday by a boy of 15 years, who with an axe murdered seven persons in the village of Basbrieglenn Landreau in the department of the Loire-Inférieure. The boy, Marcel Redureau, was employed as a vine-cutter. He and his employer, Georges Mabit, were pruning grapes together last evening when a discussion arose between them. Redureau became angry, seized an enormous axe and with a single sweep cut Mabit's throat from ear to ear, killing him instantly. The young murderer then entered his employer's house, holding his formidable weapon dripping with blood in his hand. He dashed up to Madame Mabit and slashed her throat till she was dead and then killed a servant in the same way.

Still with his dripping axe in his hand the boy proceeded to another room, where he dispatched his employer's mother in a similar way and then followed this deed by killing three of Mabit's children who were sleeping in the same chamber. For some unknown reason he spared a fourth child, aged four, lying by their side.

After the completion of his series of crimes, Redureau went to bed and slept till this morning, by which time the bodies had been discovered by the villagers. After his arrest he made a complete confession.

Persons who saw a negro loitering around the murdered woman's office now declare Askew is not the man.

described. His testimony was a refutation of that offered by the complainant and the wife of the complainant. Benjamin J. McInerney, Esq., for the defense, and Attorney Murphy for the prosecution. Both spent some time in summing up their respective sides of the case. In making his decision Judge Enright stated that he knew the complainant to be a quiet fellow who had always borne a good reputation. The defendant was found guilty and ordered to furnish bonds for his good behavior as well as to pay the costs of the court.

Condor appealed from the court's decision. While he was waiting for his bondsman to appear the defendant saw an acquaintance across the court room and whistled shrilly to him while a witness in the next case was being examined. Judge Enright promptly sent him down stairs in charge of an officer. The court remarked that Condor must have gotten police court etiquette and a ball game confused in his mind.

Charged With Larceny
The case of Jules Regnier, charged with the larceny of 25 pounds of lead pipe from David Ziskind, was next called. William Hogan, Esq., counsel for the defendant, occupied over an hour in his cross-examination of the government's witnesses.

Mr. Ziskind said that a house in Howard street belonging to him had been entered and spoils of lead cut from his sink pipe. He said that the lead alleged to have been taken by the defendant measured up to what was taken from his house.

Two junk dealers testified that the case of Jules Regnier, charged with the larceny of 25 pounds of lead pipe from David Ziskind, was next called. William Hogan, Esq., counsel for the defendant, occupied over an hour in his cross-examination of the government's witnesses.

Brown took place this morning from his home, 53 Tolman avenue, at 8:30 o'clock and was largely attended by sorrowing relatives and friends, including a number from Boston and Malden. George Mullin. Undertaker James H. McDermott had charge.

defendant had sold them two small pieces of lead pipe and that he had given the name of James Riley. They paid him about $1.00 for the two pieces.

An old lady swore that she saw Regnier enter the house and leave with a bundle of lead pipe under his arm. Attorney Hogan, in order to test the eyesight of the witness, asked her to tell the court what the time of the day was from the clock at the opposite side of the court room. The hands of the clock pointed to 11.25 but the witness positively stated that 11.00 was the correct time according to the police court clock.

Regnier denied stealing anything but said that somebody gave him a piece of lead pipe to sell. He knew nothing of the man who gave him the pipe, however. He was found guilty and the case was continued one week for sentence.

Didn't Like Father
Mrs. Frank L. Beal proved herself a very willing witness in her husband's case for the non-support of their minor child. The trial was interrupted several times by the wife's energetic attitude.

The wife was the first witness and the first thing she did after being sworn in was to demand of the court that her husband's father be punished from the court room. Judge Enright asked her why and she stated that she simply did not want him around where she was. The defendant's father stayed.

The witness and Attorney Donahue for the defense had several lively tiffs. On one occasion Mrs. Beal objected to a question of Mr. Donahue's with the remark, "Be careful, Lawyer Donahue, or I'll call a lawyer to my side." It was several moments before the attorney could control his sister's enough to continue the examination. The delinquent husband was found guilty and fined $30. He appealed.

40 APPLY FOR SECOND PAPERS

Appeared in the Naturalization Court Today—Several Nationalities Represented

A session of the naturalization court was held in this city this morning and on account of the large number of applicants for second papers, the session was resumed this afternoon. The session was held in the clerk's office of the court house on Gorham street and the corridors adjacent to the office were crowded with applicants and witnesses.

Each applicant was accompanied by two witnesses and there were about forty in number who applied for their second papers. The names were called out by Assistant Clerk Ralph Nathan Smith and he also administered the oath of allegiance. It was necessary for both witnesses to testify that they have known the applicant for at least five years and that he has been a resident of the United States for five years and a resident of Massachusetts for one year.

A list of questions relative to the constitution of the United States were asked and up to noon as far as could be learned none of the papers were suspended and all were allowed to take the oath of allegiance.

Several nationalities were represented at the session including English, Scotch, Irish, Greek, French and Swedish and the attendants were busy keeping the men in line. Many witnesses appeared and stated that they had other engagements at noon, but they were told that the applicant whom they represented would have to wait and go in when his name was called.

It was announced that tomorrow either Clerk Dillingham or Assistant Clerk Smith will come to Lowell for the accommodation of applicants for first papers.

LAY TARIFF BILL ASIDE 24 HOURS

Entire Conference Report Put Over in Senate as the Result of Protest by Several Senators

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—The entire conference report on the tariff bill was laid aside for twenty-four hours in the senate today as a result of a protest among democratic senators which resulted in the calling of a party caucus to go over the conference report before it should be finally acted upon in the senate. A hurriedly called caucus assembled at 11 o'clock but when the senate met at noon the caucus had made no progress toward a conclusion and the democratic leaders agreed to lay the tariff bill aside. The conference resumed work at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

The so-called insurgent forces, led by Senator Reed of Missouri who circulated the demand for a caucus insisted there were many compromises and amendments agreed to by the conference which demanded further study by democrats of the senate before being finally written into the bill.

After an hour's discussion of the matter in the caucus democratic leaders determined not to try to force the tariff bill through the senate today but to allow ample time for debate behind closed doors.

Senator Pomeroy's objection to the action of the conference in dropping the $110 tax on grape brandy used to fortify sweet wines and Senator Reed's criticisms of the decisions of the conference committee on several important tariff rates were the chief points brought up when the caucus met.

Senator Kern, the democratic leader, and Chairman Simmons of the finance committee, expressed the opinion early this afternoon that the tariff bill would be taken up tomorrow in the senate. The controversy over the proposed cotton futures tax may further prolong the deliberations of the democratic caucus, however.

When the senate met the conference report on the bill as agreed to by the house was presented.

Sen. Simmons, for the senate conferees, asked that the conference report be allowed to lie on the table until tomorrow. He offered no explanation of the request but it was granted and the consideration of the tariff bill went over.

REBELS LEAVE TOWN

PIEDRAS NEGRAS, Mexico, Oct. 1.—Confronted with an implied ultimatum that United States soldiers would be used to prevent the destruction of the international bridge here as well as American property on the Mexican side, every responsible chief of the constitutionalist movement disappeared from here early today, leaving the town at the mercy of the federalists should the latter make a flustering attack from the American side of the river.

Trouble in One Aired In the Other—Nothing Serious

Man Found Guilty of Larceny Was Continued for Sentence

Trouble growing out of church matters and having to do with the Lithuanian church in Rogers street, was aired in police court this morning when William Condrot pleaded guilty to threatening Michael Dirsa. The two had been appointed on a church committee and there were certain things in which they did not agree. The breach was so great that a war of words ensued.

The complainant and his wife both testified that the defendant threatened to throw Dirsa down stairs and break his neck. The defendant affirmed that he had never threatened the complainant but had warned him not to trust the faction to which he had allied himself for they would throw him out.

The defendant grew very excited while on the witness stand and gave a demonstration of each action that he

DEATH OF CHILD TOO MANY

Was Not Due to Criminal Negligence Says Judge Pickman

Judge John J. Pickman has announced his finding on the inquest on the death of Lena Stoddard, aged 9 years, deaf and dumb, who was killed in First street on July 12th by being struck by an electric car running between Lowell and Lawrence.

The finding reads in part as follows: "Since the accident occurred the bushes and small growth on the side of the embankment to some extent have been cut down, so that a view is given in some places of the track below. There should be a further removal of the trees and bushes to afford thereby an unobstructed view from the top or the side of the embankment, and there should be frequent warning signals when a car is running at a high rate of speed or other means used to give notice of danger to persons coming down the embankment toward the track."

"I find that on the afternoon of Saturday, July 12, last past, that Lena Stoddard, a girl of the age of 9 years, who is deaf and dumb, while standing or walking near a track of the Bay State street railway company that is laid on the extension of First street in said city of Lowell, was struck by a street electric that was owned and operated by said Bay State Street Railway company, that was running on said track from Lowell to Lawrence, and sustained injuries thereby that resulted in her death."

"I find that the injuries and death were not caused by the criminal negligence of the said Bay State Street Railway Company nor its officers, agent or servants."

John J. Pickman, Senior Special Justice of the Police Court of Lowell and Acting, Lowell, Mass., Oct. 1, 1913.

WOMAN'S INTERESTS NOT SAFE

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng., Oct. 1.—Woman's interests are not safe in the hands of man, according to a declaration made today at the resumption of the Church of England congress by the Right Rev. James Weldon, dean of Manchester. The contention that they were safe in men's custody was disproved, he asserted, by the legislative inequalities which for too long a time marks the relation of the sexes both in the political and moral spheres. He considered it to be a social no less than a spiritual error.

ROBBERS ESCAPE

IN THEATRES

Com. Cummings Has Received a Number of Complaints

And He Says the Building Ordinances Must Be Lived Up to

Several complaints have been received at the office of the commissioner of public buildings and licenses at city hall, relative to the crowded condition in some of the local theatres, and the commissioner of licenses will see that the rules of his department are lived up to by managers of theatres.

It seems that some of the small theatres will back their places of amusements in such a way that in case of fire it would be impossible to get away uninjured. On the other hand it is being claimed that in certain places the fire protection is not as it should be, and Commissioner Cummings stated that he would see that the fire department is notified of any complaints and anything to his opinion that is not just right, he will notify the managers to remedy.

Last year the commissioner on different occasions visited theatres and in many instances he recommended important changes and in every instance his recommendations were followed to the letter. A few days ago when the theatre managers held a conference with Mayor O'Donnell at city hall, they were later met by Commissioner Cummings who informed them of the complaints he had received, and told them when they are in doubt at any time as to certain things in reference to theatres, they should go to the proper authorities. He said if a play is not good enough for Boston, it is not good enough for Lowell.

North Department

Supt. Gordon of the north exterminating department has a shift of men at work treating the gypsy moths on public trees. The men are working on the lower part of the trees before the snow flies, and later they will attend to the upper part.

Mr. Gordon makes daily report of his doings and his whereabouts at the office of the commissioner of public buildings, and any one desiring to meet him should call up that office, where they will be told where to meet Mr. Gordon. If any complaints are to be made they should be made at once and not after the bill for the work is submitted.

School Certificates

In conformity with the new law the attendance officers have already issued about 600 new certificates to boys and girls under 21 years of age. The office is crowded from morning till night and the officers are constantly kept on the jump.

Mr. Thornton in conversation with the writer this morning said they are having considerable trouble on account of some of the certificates not being properly filled out. He said there are even overseers and foremen who are called into the office to rectify errors made in filling papers of employees. He said many of the employees fail to insert on the employment certificate that so and so is to work but eight hours a day, as is the case with children under 18 years of age, while others forget the school time. Some of the applicants also come to the office unprepared and when they are asked certain questions, they have to go home and ask their parents. If every one should study his certificate carefully and come to the office well prepared, said Mr. Thornton, it would be much easier for his attendance officers.

Ex-Governor Draper is named executor.

"ACCOUNT 500" WAS SULZER'S

Broker Says Colwell Told Him the Deposits Under That Head Were for Governor

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 1.—Direct connection between "account 500" and Governor Sulzer was established today when J. B. Colwell told him that the stock transactions in the account were for the governor. Colwell was Sulzer's alleged dummy.

CALL HANDWRITING EXPERTS AT SULZER'S IMPEACHMENT TRIAL

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 1.—Handwriting experts were expected to make their appearance today in the impeachment of Gov. Sulzer. Several signatures made by either the governor or his agents, were in dispute. Bank employees who have been on the stand failed to identify them. Some are endorsements of checks and others are attached to letters. One signature which counsel for the board of managers are very anxious to identify is that attached to a letter asking Harris & Butler, New York brokers, to close the governor's account to Lieutenant Commander Josephthal. It was signed "William Sulzer for Mrs. Sulzer." Melville B. Fuller, testifying yesterday regarding this account, said that it represented a loan made the governor and that he had said the money went to pay obligations incurred by Mrs. Sulzer at the Carnegie Trust Co. of New York, now defunct.

INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL ON THE LEDGE SITE

Com. Cummings, Mr. Campbell and Principal Fisher Say City Needs New School

If the council and the school board are agreeable it is very probable that a fine up-to-date and very commodious industrial school will be erected on the ledge in Bowers and Fletcher streets.

As was published in The Sun some time ago the Mann school is in a much dilapidated condition, and according to Supt. Fisher, it is a menace to the teachers and pupils, while the old Bartlett school is practically in the same condition, and furthermore the buildings are too small to properly house the many who desire to take the courses.

As a result of the inadequacy of these buildings, Commissioner Cummings, who has charge of the public building department, conferred with School Committeemen A. Campbell, and the two men came to the conclusion that an industrial school building should be erected by the city of Lowell, and the proper place for this new structure would be the ledge site in Bowers and Fletcher streets, which contains 103,000 square feet of land. This place is large enough to erect a building that would take care of all the pupils of the old Bartlett, the Mann and Morrill schools, and in addition Messrs. Cummings and Campbell say

NEW AGENT IN LOWELL

To Enforce New Law Relative to Women and Minors Under the Labor and Industry Bureau

William H. Coburn is one of five graduates of the Institute of Technology who have been appointed under the state board of labor and industry to enforce the new laws relative to the hours of labor of women and minors.

Mr. Coburn has his office at the quarters of the district police in the Central block from which he will cooperate with the city officials, the mill agents and others in the enforcement of the new laws. He is not a lawyer and states that he can only quote to the people what the various acts require. In this work he will be assisted by Miss Mary E. Halley, who is to be transferred from the district police to the bureau of labor and industry. There is no woman in New England more conversant with mill matters than is Miss Halley. She has been a factory inspector for many years in Lowell, Fall River and other cities and has always given entire satisfaction in the discharge of her duties.

For the present the enforcement of the law will not be very rigid inasmuch as there are a great many classifications under the new statutes relative to the work of women and minors. Mr. Coburn, however, will visit factories and workshops to see that time schedules are posted as required and that an effort is being made to carry out the provision of the law.

NEW LAW MAKES PAUPERS

Mayor M. A. Scanlon at Lawrence Hearing Attacks the New Child Labor Law

LAWRENCE, Oct. 1.—Many persons who spoke at a hearing here last night expressed the opinion that the new child labor law would prove a hardship on poor families. The hearing was given by a special committee of the state house of representatives appointed to investigate conditions surrounding the employment of women and children in this commonwealth. About 150 men and women and a number of boys were present. Of the numerous speakers, only half a dozen favored the law.

Act Is Bad

Mayor Scanlon said that in Lawrence it has been found that the working of the act is bad. He was sorry the committee who reported it did not see fit to visit the mill centers before the act was passed. "Our children," he said, "graduate from the grammar schools when they are 14 years old and their parents in a great many instances need their assistance in bringing up the younger members of the family. The pay of a child 15 years old working in the mill is a great help. There is no place for these children

TARIFF ADOPTED REV. H. A. BARKER

Left the House on Last Journey to Senate — Vote 254 to 103 Reception at the Eliot Cong. Church

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—The dramatic tariff revision bill left the house last night on what the party leaders hoped would be its last journey to the senate. After many hours of debate the house adopted the main conference agreement on the bill, 254 to 103, almost a strict party vote. And by this action gave its endorsement to everything in the measure except the cotton future tax.

Cotton Future Tax

At the end of a short but bitter fight that followed the adoption of the tariff revision bill, the democratic leader, succeeded in carrying through the Smith-Lever cotton future tax amendment by a vote of 171 to 151. Democrats and republicans alike voted on this without regard to party and a large portion of the democratic membership from southern states joined in the vote. The demand that the whole subject be carried over to another session of congress.

The cotton future tax question now rests entirely with the senate. The house concurred in the Clarke amendment put into the tariff bill by the Underwood plan as another amendment. Unless the senate will accept this change, which has the endorsement of the president, the whole cotton future tax plan will again have to be considered in the joint conference committee and again reported to both houses for congressional action.

On the final passage of the conference report, embracing all of the bill except the cotton tax, Representatives Donohue of Pennsylvania and Lazzaro, Morgan and Broussard of Louisiana, democrats, voted against it, while Representatives Kelley of Pennsylvania, MacDonald of Michigan and Bailey of Pennsylvania, progressives and Republicans of Minnesota, Stafford and Carey of Wisconsin and Kent of California, republicans, voted with the majority.

Speaker Clark took the floor in the moments before the vote to congratulate the president, Representative Underwood, the democratic party in general upon the success of the tariff program. He defended the caucus plan and ridiculed the suggestion of Representative Murdock that no tariff bills in the future would be drafted in this way.

Rev. and Mrs. Herbert A. Barker were tendered a reception by members of the Eliot Congregational church, in the church vestry, last evening. The vestry was prettily decorated for the occasion and the reception lasted from 7:30 to 8:30 o'clock. Assisting the pastor and his wife in receiving were Deacon and Mrs. William J. Blake, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin T. Shaw. The ushers were in charge of Major Charles S. Proctor, and included Messrs. R. P. White, F. M. Sullivan, A. W. Pilon, G. S. Hull, J. E. Foster, J. H. Shepard, E. T. Shaw, F. P. Moody, C. R. Flemings, C. E. King, G. B. Holden, E. R. Sargent, F. M. Barney, F. R. Hull, A. A. Russell, G. Davis, M. B. Smith and R. K. Dexter.

The refreshments were in charge of Mrs. Charles S. Proctor, assisted by Mrs. Victor Mottier and members of the Ladies' Charitable association.

The ladies who presided at the tables were: Mrs. A. C. Russell, Mrs. Edward D. Holden, Mrs. Clarence N. Childs, Mrs. E. W. Pease, Mrs. Jesse H. Shepard, Mrs. Fred M. Barney, Corfe was served by Mrs. Frank Hull, Mrs. Herbert W. Hodge, Mrs. Herbert D. Hixby, Mrs. Frank Field, Mrs. John Bancroft, Mrs. Fay Adrich, Mrs. William M. NEARLY DROWNS

Amateur Houdini Almost Lost His Life Doing Trick

MIDDLEBORO, Oct. 1.—Andrew Valois learned how to be a Houdini from a correspondence school, and almost lost his life by drowning when he attempted to free himself from a tank of water at the charity carnival of the Middleboro Lodge of Elks. A can-opener and a jack-knife saved Andrew and he's so happy that he's going to stick to the barbering business and let vaudeville alone.

When the local Elks were looking around for a feature act to decorate their midway, Andrew, whose central name is Charlie, offered his services as a Houdini performer. He collected two galvanized cans, about the size of garbage receptacles, filled one with water and got inside of them and the second one closed over him.

A committee of enthusiastic and admiring friends covered the cans with ropes and chains, while Andrew gurgled from within and said he'd be out with them in less than 30 seconds.

While 2000 Middleboro people gaped in wonderment at the platform where the correspondence school wizard was doing his escape act, the seconds began to fly away rapidly. Thirty of them passed and there was no splash to announce a Valois victory. Thirty more passed and no more news became blanchard. It looked like a case of manslaughter, and everybody howled to have the cans opened and Valois taken out.

When several more minutes had passed and Valois had not emerged from his prison of galvanized metal and water, the committee got busy with the can openers and knives and saved the performer. He was rushed to a nearby pharmacy, where a physician revived him finally.

And the great Houdini act was then canned by the committee.

Next Saturday is "Quarter Day" at The Lowell Five Cent Savings Bank.

KIDNAP GROOM

Former Lexington Man Rescued by His Bride After Thrilling Ride

BOSTON, Oct. 1.—Lewis F. Ames, formerly of Lexington, after announcing his elopement and marriage in New York to Miss O. Louise Perkins, a prominent young society woman of Fairhaven, was kidnapped in New Bedford, after a thrilling midnight ride, by his bride in a high-powered automobile.

Ames went to New Bedford to work in the employ of his uncle, Phineas C. Healdy. While at Fairhaven on a visit, he met Miss Perkins, who is the daughter of our Mayor, Perkins. After a very brief courtship they decided to elope to New York.

When their friends were told of the wedding they determined to take revenge on the couple for not sharing the secret with them. One evening last week four or five young men waylaid Ames, after a brilliant midnight ride, by his bride in a high-powered automobile.

DEPORT ELOPERS

The Immigration Men Would Not Let Couple Go Ashore

BOSTON, Oct. 1.—An elopement was spoiled yesterday on the Allan line steamer Numidian, which had just arrived from Glasgow, by Inspector John Ryder of the immigration corps when he halted Harry and Agnes Smith, cabin passengers, and would not permit them to go ashore.

A separate questioning of Harry and Agnes showed that Inspector Ryder's suspicions were correct each declaring it is alleged, that they were their respective mates to the fog of the same name the pair are not related. As a result of the hearing the couple will be deported on the Numidian when she sails on her return trip.

WANT MORE MEMBERS

CONTEST HAS BEEN STARTED AT THE Y. M. C. A.—OVER 150 MEN ARE INTERESTED

The membership teams of the Y. M. C. A. opened their fall campaign last night at the Y. M. C. A. hall with a banquet and entertainment and from the hour that the 150 men gathered at association building until the same hour on October 14, an attempt will be made to increase the membership to what it should be in a city the size of Lowell.

At 8:30 o'clock the men sat down to a beautiful dinner in the large dining room and this was followed by speaking by several of the Y. M. C. A. directors and others interested in the campaign. Mr. F. A. Bowen acted as toastmaster during the evening and after brief remarks he introduced Mr. C. E. Flemings, commander-in-chief of the central Y. M. C. A. who issued his orders to the various teams and captains. Other speakers were: Mr. A. O. Booth, secretary of the Massachusetts and Rhode Island Young Men's Christian Association; Rev. Raymond G. Clark, pastor of the Trinitarian Congregational Church; W. A. Morse, former secretary of the Y. M. C. A. in this city; A. J. Wicks, physical director of the local Y. M. C. Police Interfere With Plans of Two Boys Bound for Detroit

A sixteen-year-old boy, his chum and $50 all left this city last night, together in search of adventure, but their travels were rudely interrupted when the police of Manchester boarded the north bound train on which they were encoined and took them from their cosy apartment in the smoking car. Both boys had tickets for Detroit, Mich.

The sum of money which was traveling with the two boys had been deposited in a Lowell savings bank to the account of one of the boys. The money had been deposited there by the boy's parents, but the boy had taken the money to the bank himself. Therefore when he asked to have his account turned over to him the bank clerk did not smell a rat and did as requested. Summoning his chum, the boy with the $50 immediately bought two tickets for the Michigan city and the two embarked on the 5:33 train last night out of Lowell. Officer Clark, whose beat is around the Middlesex street depot, remembered seeing the youngsters board the train and the po-

THEY CAME BACK

Police Interfere With Plans of Two Boys Bound for Detroit

A sixteen-year-old boy, his chum and $50 all left this city last night, together in search of adventure, but their travels were rudely interrupted when the police of Manchester boarded the north bound train on which they were encoined and took them from their cosy apartment in the smoking car. Both boys had tickets for Detroit, Mich.

The sum of money which was traveling with the two boys had been deposited in a Lowell savings bank to the account of one of the boys. The money had been deposited there by the boy's parents, but the boy had taken the money to the bank himself. Therefore when he asked to have his account turned over to him the bank clerk did not smell a rat and did as requested. Summoning his chum, the boy with the $50 immediately bought two tickets for the Michigan city and the two embarked on the 5:33 train last night out of Lowell. Officer Clark, whose beat is around the Middlesex street depot, remembered seeing the youngsters board the train and the po-

T. G. ROBBINS ELECTED

Principal of Evening High School
—Doctor A. E. Kent Will Have
Charge of Dental Clinic

Several important matters were discussed and acted upon by the school board in a prolonged regular session last night. Among other things, the standing of those who were successful in the recent examinations for evening school teachers were given out, the names being read in the order of rank. The meeting was called at 5.43 and it was nearly ten minutes past twelve when the motion to adjourn was made and carried.

At the opening, Mr. Campbell for the committee on text books and supplies, recommended an appropriation of $3000 with which to equip additional rooms in the industrial school according to the recommendation of the state board of education. This sum was voted.

The committee unanimously elected Miss Clara L. Farrington as clerk to the principal of the evening school, at a salary of $1.35 per evening.

Dr. Lambert read the report recommending the election of the following to positions in the evening high school: Thomas G. Robbins, principal, at five dollars an evening; Miss Eleanor R. Sherry, secretary, $1.50 per evening; Mr. Sherry and George C. Putnam, penmanship, $2.00 per evening; Albert D. Mack, head of stenography and typewriting, $3.00 per evening; George H. Donohue, bookkeeping, $2.00 per evening; Charles E. Seede, manual training, $2.50 an evening; Gutesian, $2.00; Madame Sarah Laporte, French, $2.00; and Miss Adelaide B. Noyes, elocution, $2.00.

This was the topic of a heated discussion. Candidates had been notified, through advertisements, to file their applications and statements of qualifications, because no one had appeared to take the examination for this position. The election of Thomas G. Robbins was recommended by the committee on evening schools in their report, his name having been selected from the applicants who filed their statements as requested. Mr. Farrington and Dr. Bagley were opposed to the election of Mr. Robbins, and favored Mr. Connors. Mr. Farrington especially making strong statements as to the qualifications of the applicant. Dr. Bagley inquired what particular qualifications Mr. Robbins possessed to fit him for the position. Dr. Lambert replied that he was a graduate of two colleges and had a broad experience as a teacher and a principal in the evening schools.

Violation of Rules

Mr. Farrington then stated that the election of Mr. Robbins would be a direct violation of the rules of the committee, which call for an examination. Chairman replied that no one had appeared to take the examination. Mr. Campbell then inquired of Mr. Farrington through the chair as to whether or not he had given his assent to the advertisements requesting applicants to file qualifications, and he replied that he had. However, he said, he did not say that this was a principal should be chosen.

Dr. Bagley expressed himself as in favor of another examination for the position, and said that Mr. Connors would appear. There were several intimations as to the reasons of applicants for not appearing. "Will you go on record as favoring an examination for principal of the evening high school next Saturday?" inquired Dr. Bagley of Dr. Lambert.

"I certainly will not," was the reply. Dr. Lambert said that one examination had been announced and that the applicant failed to appear. Therefore the matter should be disposed of in another way.

"There is another name on the list," said Mr. Farrington, "that of a young lady who stated before the filing of application that she was going to get the position and told another young lady that she would be setting her time in taking the examination."

Then Mr. Farrington again came to the front and in a long and warm argument, denounced the action as a violation of several of the rules of the committee. He said he heard no suspension of the rules in the matter. He said that the election of Mr. Robbins was the work of the spoils system. He waxed eloquent and was ruled out of order by the chairman, who used his gavel vigorously, at the same time repeating, "I rule that out of order." The speaker continued to talk, however, when he finally finished Dr. Lambert said: "Your respect for the chair is great."

"When I am interrupted while talking to a motion, I am going to keep right on talking," was the reply of Mr. Farrington.

Mr. Robbins, together with the entire list was elected. Mr. Farrington and Dr. Bagley voting for Mr. Connors.

Some More Talk

There was another heated discussion when Dr. Lambert read a report recommending the election of Miss Ruth L. Eaton as a teacher in the commercial department of the high school at a salary of $650 per annum. Mr. Farrington arose to inquire as to what qualifications Miss Eaton had fitting her for this position, and Dr. Lambert replied that she is a graduate of the high school, Simmons college and has had several years' teaching experience. Mr. Farrington then said that there has been on file for over a year the application of a young lady for this position, and he thought that all other things being equal, her priority of application should be taken into consideration. He did not think that it was quite right that in view of her previous application, another should be elected at this late date. Miss Eaton was elected with Mr. Farrington and Dr. Bagley opposing.

Miss Eleanor Sherry was elected secretary of the evening high school, being opposed by Mr. Farrington, who, however, did not object at length.

There were elected several janitors for the evening schools. All but one were day janitors, and the vote on this was unanimous.

The resignation of Alice T. Bessey, on leave of absence, and Miss M. Cragin, principal of the Lincoln kindergarten, were accepted and votes of thanks tendered the two. Miss Cragin has gone to California.

Superintendent Questioned
Mr. Farrington was disposed to criticize the action of Supt. Molloy who recommended several transfers in the grammar grades. Mr. Farrington inquired as to why Mr. Molloy recommended these transfers and the superintendent replied that it was because the member who had just spoken had recommended it. The superintendent's action was confirmed by the committee.

The leave of absence of Agnes G. Phelps was extended another year.

A petition from the school physicians, asking for an increase of salary to $400, was referred to the committee on finance.

A communication from the North American Civic League was read, recommending a tentative plan for locating the immigrants in the evening schools. The league asked for a small appropriation if possible. The committee voted to co-operate, but not to bind themselves to any appropriation.

It was voted to close one room in the Lyon street school, and transfer the teacher to a vacancy in the Colburn school. This was on recommendation of the superintendent.

Dr. Kent Elected

When the committee came to the election of a dentist to take charge of the dental clinic, on the first ballot Dr. Bagley voted for Dr. Fred Morris, Mr. Campbell for Dr. E. A. Kent, Mr. Farrington for Dr. Napoleon Provencher, Mr. Thompson and Dr. Lambert for Dr. Geo. Darling.

On the second ballot Dr. Bagley again voted for Dr. Morris. Mr. Campbell for Dr. Kent, Mr. Farrington shifted to Dr. Morris, and Mr. Thompson and Dr. Lambert voted for Dr. Kent, and Dr. Geo. Darling having received three votes, was declared elected.

Miss Clara A. Emerson was given leave of absence, and it was voted that Miss Adelaide Crowley, who is doing her work, receive the principal's pay. In the Pond street school.

Miss Gookin, head of the household department, was voted an extra $100 for her extra evening work.

First grade certificates were granted to Joseph Denahue and Cornelius O'Neil, graduates of Dartmouth and Holy Cross colleges, respectively.

Leave to withdraw was voted, on the position on which a hearing was granted, for the reinstatement of Mr. Reynolds as principal of the Riverside school.

INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL

gest that a shower bath be erected on the same site.

Will Prepare Plans

Messrs. Cummings and Campbell are in favor that the council and the school board confer on this matter at an early date and have plans in readiness for the board of commissioners who will be in office next year. Of course it is impossible to erect these buildings this year, but as Mr. Cummings says the plans can be prepared and the next city government can go to work on these important additions at the first of the year.

Supt. Fisher of the industrial school favors this project and he says providing the city would put up the walls and roof, the boys from the industrial school would do the rest of the work. He said the pupils would be only too glad to get practical experience in their particular line of study. Mr. Fisher said the city ought to build large quarters for it is almost impossible under present conditions to conduct the school on a good basis. He is also desirous of establishing new lines of studies at the school, such as shoe work and basketry and others, but he cannot do it now for the schools are too small for the present studies.

The Evening Classes

The evening classes of the industrial school will open on October 13, and registration will be held Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings from 7 to 9 o'clock at the Morrill, Bartlett and Mann schools.

According to the state law no applicant will be considered who is under 17 years of age. The work at the Morrill school, which is for women employed during the day, will include the following courses: Bread making, meats and vegetables, omelets, breakfasts, bread, biscuits and hot cakes, cake making, pastry and puddings, soup stock and oysters and poultry.

On the completion of the courses efficiency tests may be given by representatives of the state board of education, and this will be the basis for recommendation for reimbursement. This means that attendance must be regular and that the students must know the subject thoroughly. Several courses may be taken in succession during the school period.

The men must be 17 years of age or over and be employed during the day in the occupation for which they want instruction during the evening. The courses are construction courses and are given for the purposes of advancing the workers along their respective lines. The evening work this year will be given in definite courses of several weeks covering a certain phase of the trade work. When this is completed the student may register for a second or third phase of the trade work.

Kill Catarrh Germ Use Booth's Hyomei

Try the sure and most effective way to reach the raw, tender inflamed mucous membrane infested with catarrh germs—breathe Hyomei. All druggists sell it.

You cannot reach the necks and crevices of the breathing organs with liquid preparations; there is only one way—breathe a few times daily the germ-destroying air of Booth's Hyomei. It acts directly on the inflamed membranes and destroys the catarrh germs.

If you suffer from offensive breath, raising of mucus, frequent sneezing, hoarse voice, discharge from the nose, droppings in the throat, spasmodic coughing, or any other symptoms of catarrh, use Hyomei at once. It will destroy the disease germs in the nose, throat and lungs, and give quick and permanent relief, or money refunded.

The complete outfit including pocket inhaler and bottle of liquid costs $1.00 extra bottles of liquid if later needed, 50 cents.

GANG OF MEN LOWERING SECTION OF WATER MAIN BEING LAID UNDER THE RIVER

Work of Laying Big Pipe in Bed of the Merrimack River is Nearing Completion—Quick Sand Delays Job

Work on the laying of the 24 inch water main in the bed of the Merrimack river from Ferry lane to the Alken street bridge, is progressing rapidly and it is expected if there is no sudden delay in the work, that the job will be completed in about ten days.

Work of laying this large water main is really a larger undertaking than many people think, for in order to get to the bed of the river, the workmen were forced to box up certain portions of the ground with coffer dams, and with the use of a steam pump, clear the bed of its water.

Although work was not started before the early part of August, already 1600 feet of the river bed has been dug up and the main laid, and there still remains about 150 feet of pipe to be laid. There are about 75 men on the job and they are pushing the work at a rapid pace.

Now that the work is nearing completion, the task of laying the main is much more difficult for the reason that the water is not any higher than ever the water was in the river. It was when the job was started, but the river bed is full of deep holes and many of them are now being encountered.

In the course of the work the men struck a marl or quick sand, but nevertheless they made rapid progress, although the digging was very difficult. They lay on an average of four sections of 22 feet each day, but since they struck deep water, this has been reduced about half. The connections to the Alken street main which are also being put in place, it is expected, will be made in a couple of weeks. Commissioner Barrett and Supt. Thomas of the water department and an engineer from the engineer's office are constantly on the job as a slight misstep might have serious results.

LIST STARTED UPWARDS

AT OPENING OF MARKET—GREW STEADIER AND HELD FIRM EN-TIL CLOSE

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—The decline in stocks of the last few days was followed by a sharp upturn at the beginning of business today. Higher prices for American stocks in London caused an automatic adjustment in the home market and as the list started upwards it received added impetus from the trading element. The extent of short selling recently prompted operations against the bears, who found the market moving against them as they attempted to cover. Copper stocks were especially strong. Amalgamated Copper and Chino gained a point, U. P. opened half up and soon continued its gain to a point. Canadian Pacific rose 1/4. The higher range, however, brought out a greater supply of stocks and the advance was halted, with fractional reactions from the best prices.

Although movements of stocks during the morning were uncertain with several reactions after the opening rise, the market gradually grew steadily on a level which showed general gains for the leaders. Large offerings of steel made less impression on the market than yesterday and the belief that the shorts were in danger of overextending their holdings, caused more confident buying.

The market held firm during the early afternoon with some further improvement among the leading speculative shares. Heavy decreases in net earnings of large eastern roads as shown in their August figures failed to weaken the railroad list as a whole, although New York Central sold off fractionally. Firmness of the active stocks was offset partially by weakness of various less prominent issues. Vulcan Detinning pfd. fell six points; Bess Sheffield five and American Tobacco, Laclede Gas, National Biscuit, Republic Steel, American Steel Foundries, Western Union and North American one to nearly four points. The copper stocks made the best prices of the day in the last hour. Chino increased its gain to 2 1/4 and Utah and Amalgamated to 1 1/4. The remainder of the list gains were held to the close.

BLAZE IN LOCAL THEATRE

FIREMEN CALLED TO THE ACADEMY OF MUSIC IN THE EARLY MORNING

An alarm from box 7 at 4:24 this morning called all the down town fire apparatus to Dutton street, where a blaze in the wooden canopy over the box office to the Academy of Music was just beginning to break through the roof into the theatre. Nothing was used by the firemen except the chemical extinguisher. The blaze was soon extinguished. If the firemen had been a few minutes later in their arrival upon the scene it is quite probable that a conflagration of a serious nature might have resulted.

ARE NUISANCE

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—After an eight months' study of the billboard problem in New York the special commission appointed by the late Mayor Gaynor has arrived at the conclusions embodied in a book of over 100 pages.

The findings of the commission are that the billboard constitutes a nuisance because of its unsightliness, that it constitutes further fire hazard in many places and also a menace to public health on account of the rubbish it often hides. A restriction of the use of the billboard is recommended, including proposals to tax such advertisements, to establish a censorship on designs, to authorize health officials to prohibit large electric signs where they are found to interfere with sleep in residential districts and to limit the number of billboards to one for every 1000 of all signs which are a menace to health and safety.

"New York city," says the report, "has probably more billboards, roof signs and illuminated advertising signs than any city in the world." In the whole city it is estimated there is a total of 3500,000 square feet of billboard advertising with an income to the advertising companies of more than a million dollars a year. It was added that there is "serious doubt whether billboard advertising is as profitable to the merchant as other forms of advertising."

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Oct. 1.—More than 300 persons, representing cotton interests of the New England and southern states and their guests from many parts of the world, applauded the stand taken by Edwin Farnham Greene, president of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers in his address relative to the tariff at the opening session of the semi-annual convention of the association here last night. Mr. Greene said that while the best informed cotton manufacturers would naturally look with alarm "on any such radical change as is being made by the tariff bill, the high efficiency of our mills and the comparative proximity of the markets may enable us to compete successfully with the foreigner."

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 1.—A beautiful steamer, the token of the North America Gymnastic union, of which Theodore Stempel of this city is president, is to the turners of Germany to be used in their celebration of the centenary of the "Battle of the Nations" at Leipzig on October 18, was started on its way today. The steamer will be taken to Washington by train and next Friday will be carried by rafts of turner boys from Washington to Hoboken, there to be received by the captain of the steamer Koenigsmann Lulze as a special messenger, who will convey it to Germany.

WOMEN'S GOLF TOURNEY

COTTON MILLS CLOSED

MANCHESTER, Eng., Oct. 1.—The Lancashire cotton employers at a meeting today decided to close all their mills from Oct. 25 until the strike of the workmen at Bee Hive mill, Bolton, has been settled. The workers at the Bee Hive mill struck against the advice of the officials of the cotton union on account of their objection to the personality of one of their overseers.

Rheumatic Pains Promptly Disappear

Relief Comes After Taking Few Doses of Croxone

It is needless to suffer with rheumatism, and be all crippled up, and bent out of shape with its heart-wrenching pains, when you can avoid it. Rheumatism comes from weak, inactive kidneys, that fail to filter from the blood the poisonous waste matter and uric acid, the only way to overcome it is to remove the cause. Croxone does this because it neutralizes and dissolves the poisonous substances and uric acid that lodge in the joints and muscles, to scratch and irritate and cause rheumatism, and cleans out and strengthens the stopped up, inactive kidneys, so they can filter the poison from the blood, and drive it out and out of the system.

Croxone is a truly remarkable medicine for rheumatism, kidney troubles and bladder disorders. You will find it differs from other remedies. There is nothing else just like it. It matters not how old you are, or how long you have suffered, it is practically impossible to take it without results. Relief follows the first few doses, and you will be surprised how quickly all misery and suffering will end.

An original package of Croxone costs but a trifle and all druggists

LET GARBAGE ROT

Ultimatum of Chicago
Co. — Mayor Calls a
Special Meeting

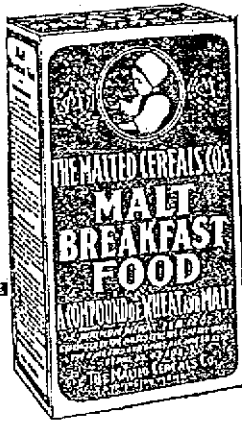

CHICAGO, Oct. 1.—Mayor Harrison today called a special meeting of the council for tonight to determine some method of disposing of the city's garbage. At midnight the plant of the Chicago Reduction Co., which has taken care of the refuse, was closed, following the ignoring of the company's ultimatum served yesterday upon city officials that unless it was paid $492,000 in cash by 12 o'clock "we will let the garbage rot in Chicago's alleys."

Aroused by the menace of several hundred tons of garbage accumulating daily in Chicago, many aldermen asserted today that the city would be justified in exercising its police power and seize the plant. A settlement with the company could be made later, they said.

As alternatives, the city can dump the garbage in playholes, considering a health menacing process, or deodorizing the garbage by some solution.

THE SULZER CASE

of impeachment managers, intimated that the entry was made later than this date. It made his debt for securities appear as a loan.

Further attempts to get into the record the story of how Louis A. Sarecky was given a $5000 per year position in the immigration service at the behest of the governor and later refused to testify before the Frawley committee, were expected. Sarecky was subpoenaed as a witness last week, but he was not called to the stand.

A report from Buffalo yesterday said that W. J. Conners of that city had been called to testify today. The board of managers' counsel refused to tell along what line he would be questioned.

Personal Statement

At the opening of the morning session Melville B. Fuller of the brokerage firm of Harris & Fuller was granted permission to make a personal statement to the court.

Mr. Fuller first referred to headlines in various evening papers referring to his testimony which he said misrepresented his firm.

"I have concealed nothing," the witness declared. "I testified frankly and freely before the Frawley committee, although I understood—"

At this point Attorney Stanchfield interrupted, claiming that comment on the Frawley committee exceeded the province of a personal statement.

Judge Cullen sustained the attorney in his contention. The presiding judge also cut short the statement by informing the witness that if he had been misrepresented in any newspaper he had recourse to the courts.

Judge Cullen told the witness to confine himself to a personal statement and not comment on the court proceedings.

The books of my firm are absolutely correct," Mr. Fuller then said. "No balances were forced. No items were omitted or concealed in them to protect Sulzer or anyone else."

Refused to Answer

Samuel M. Frank, a stenographer was called to verify certain testimony given by Louis Sarecky, Governor Sulzer's campaign secretary, before the Frawley investigating committee. Sarecky at the time refused to answer any questions concerning the governor's campaign expenses unless he could be represented by counsel. Counsel was denied him.

Mr. Stanchfield stated the position of the assembly managers. He said they were to show by the testimony Sarecky gave before the Frawley committee that when the governor appointed Sarecky as deportation agent Sulzer knew the manifest, the palpable unfitness of Sarecky to occupy the position. The testimony shows the intimacy between Sulzer and Sarecky from the latter's boyhood. It also shows the difference in the salary Sarecky received as the Sulzer's secretary as state deportation agent, from $1500 to $2500 in the former and $4500 in the latter.

Evidence of Bribery

"This testimony," Mr. Stanchfield continued, "will present the strongest possible circumstantial evidence of bribery. And when I say bribery, I say it advisedly. To be guilty of bribery does not mean that a person has to pass something to another person so tangible that the person may take it in his hand or put it in his pocket. Other kinds of bribery are more insidious."

At this point Judge Gardner interrupted to ask if Sarecky were to be called as a witness.

Mr. Hinman informed him that

Sarecky was under subpoena from the manager's counsel.

"But," interrupted Mr. Stanchfield,

"you need not understand from that fact that the managers are going to make him their witness."

"We never thought you would," interjected Judge Herrick, the governor's

chief counsel.

Presiding Judge Cullen then ruled that Mr. Stanchfield in reading the Sarecky testimony must confine himself to the parts in which Sarecky refused to answer the questions concerning the campaign contributions.

Resigned as Secretary

John C. Birdseye, secretary of the civil service commission, who testified yesterday, was recalled to testify regarding the appointment of Sarecky as deportation agent of the state hospital commission. He identified a letter written to the commission by Chester Platt, secretary to the governor, requesting the commission to note that Sarecky had resigned as confidential secretary to the governor on July 13.

He also identified a letter from the state hospital commission requesting a suspension of rules to permit Sarecky to be appointed deportation agent at a salary of $4500. This was followed by another letter from the commission recommending Sarecky on the ground that "he masters five languages" and was "peculiarly equipped for the position by reason of his knowledge of the jargon of the races which largely constitute our state hospital population."

The letter asked that Sarecky be placed in the "exempt class" of the civil service rules.

Birdseye said that it was about this correspondence, the commission held a meeting July 30, 1913, at which a resolution was passed giving Sarecky the position "with the approval of the governor."

The governor gave his approval, said Birdseye and Sarecky was appointed. Sarecky's appointment to this position, Birdseye said, was the first instance of a layman getting the position.

Harvey Hinman of counsel for the governor cross-examined the witness and read into the record a section of the state insanity law providing that the bureau of deportation consist of a medical examiner and such "medical and lay assistants as shall be deemed necessary."

Robert Cumming, chief of the legislative bill drafting department, was questioned concerning the drafting of the "stock exchange reform bills" recommended by the governor.

The witness said he went to the executive chamber at the request of the governor and the executive then submitted memoranda and asked him to draw up the bills. Later, he said, the governor summoned him again, gave him more memoranda and had more bills drawn. Among the latter was the stock exchange incorporation bill which was introduced but never reported from the senate judiciary committee.

What, if anything, did the governor say to you regarding the so-called incorporation bill? asked Atty. Todd for the managers.

"He simply asked me to hurry the drafting as he said he wanted it introduced as soon as possible."

The bills were drawn in accordance with the governor's request, the witness said, and were delivered to Senator Stillwell and Assemblyman Levy by the governor.

Mr. Cumming was not cross-examined. Mr. Todd then offered the governor's special message to the legislature recommending that the provisions of the corrupt practices bill be made applicable to the amount of money a candidate may spend for nomination, as well as for election.

John Boyd Gray of the New York

brokerage firm of Fuller and Gray was examined for the assembly managers by former Senator Brackett.

Colwell Had Desk Room

F. L. Colwell had desk room in the firm's office, but was not employed by the firm, he said.

Gray said the last time he saw Colwell the latter had told him he was going to Albany. This was on the day on which the Frawley committee held its last session. He said he was going to see one of the committeemen.

"Did you meet Colwell in October, 1912, in respect to opening an account?" asked Attorney Brackett.

"Yes. He asked me in my Yonkers office to get a quotation on 'Big Four.' I quoted it and he gave me an order to buy 100 shares at a specified price. He did not get the stock until a few days later. Colwell did not make a deposit against the stock until the day it was delivered in the Yonkers office. There were two deposits, one of $1500 and one of $1000."

"Was there never any salary of $50 a week paid to Colwell?"

"Oh, well," replied Gray, "he acted as my private secretary, for which I paid him $50 a week."

"How long was he so employed?"

"For about eight months, up to Oct. 22, 1912."

"When was the 'Big Four' delivered?"

"Oct. 31."

Gray said he had made no inquiry why the payments were made in cash and had not asked where the cash had come from.

COTTON MEN IN SESSION

SEMI-ANNUAL MEETING OF NATIONAL ASSN. OF MANUFACTURERS OPENED

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Oct. 1.—Technical papers relating to the business were read at the morning session today at the semi-annual meeting of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers which opened here last night.

Among those on the program were papers by D. E. Douthy, New York city, and Arthur T. Bradley, Boston. Deciamusian, the rising, for cotton wars, the results of moisture tests upon American cotton at the cotton conditioning house, Havre, France, and the second report of the committee on conditioning of cotton yarn and cloth were subjects for discussion when the meeting began.

SEN. LODGE IMPROVING

SENATOR SPENT A QUIET NIGHT—SLEPT SO SLOWLY—FAMILY EXPECTS RECOVERY SOON

NAHANT, Oct. 1.—A quiet night was passed by United States senator Henry Cabot Lodge and the nurses said early today that the patient was resting comfortably. His pulse and temperature, they announced, both were normal. The physicians planned to visit the senator early in the afternoon.

Senator Lodge, who was operated on last week for gastric ulcer, lies in his favorite room in his ocean-side home. It is a room with southwest exposure, looking out over the picturesque Nahant cliffs to the broad expanse of Massachusetts bay.

An encouraging report was issued later by Dr. Francis B. Harrington, one of the surgeons, after less than an hour at the Lodge house. Dr. Harrington said:

"This morning Senator Lodge is improving and there is every indication that he will make a splendid recovery. He has been improving from the start and my visit this morning found him in a most comfortable condition after a restful night with the pulse and temperature normal."

A LOWELL TEXTILE EXHIBIT

Recently a textile exhibit loaned by the government was held in Boston under the auspices of the chamber of commerce of that city and it aroused the interest of hundreds of textile manufacturers and businessmen in general, many of whom went to see it with the idea of getting suggestions for the production of new weaves, colors and patterns suitable to domestic conditions of manufacture. It also afforded them a valuable object lesson on the style of goods that foreign manufacturers had suitable to the needs of the people of their respective countries. The collection of textile exhibits included samples from Argentina, Russia, Turkey, Bulgaria, Roumania, Serbia, Egypt, Arabia, Syria, Italy, Canada, and many other countries.

The United States government did not collect textile samples from these distant countries merely because they are pretty or capable of giving pleasure to the artistic sensibilities of those who might see them. It got them together because it hoped that the resources and power of invention of the American manufacturer would be stimulated by seeing the result of foreign design and foreign labor. It collected them as a practical method of arousing healthy competition, and giving our textile producers an incentive for the production of better work. It must always be a matter of pride to us of Lowell that no international collection of textiles could be complete without a sample of the product of our mills. We have many varying interests and industries but our name must be always most closely associated with the textile industry which our founders brought here from Europe and developed to a hitherto unknown degree of excellence. Why then would it not be a good idea to get together a collection of representative textile samples that would carry our name and fame into every section of this country and even to foreign countries? In all great industrial centers there are no boards of trade or similar organizations under whose auspices such a collection could be shown. We have plans for the manufacture of cottons, silks, and woolsens and their attendant products, and with the proper cooperation a complete and artistic collection of samples could be collected which would advertise the city in the most desirable manner and tend to bring business to our manufacturers. The initial expense would not be very great on any one concern and if necessary a nominal charge could be made for the expedition so that it would not entail any financial burden on those responsible for its success.

CONTAGIOUS HOSPITAL SITE

It is doubtful from the present outlook if the municipal council will ever agree to build the contagious hospital on the city owned Chelmsford street property. It thus becomes a certainty that sooner or later the question of purchasing a suitable site will be considered again and the difference of opinion which has characterized every attempt thus far to decide on some one situation may be expected to crop out as before. If ever there is to be unanimity of action and a municipal decision that will meet with general popular approval, it must be determined in the first instance that no site should be considered which is unsuitable for the purpose of such a hospital or so expensive that its purchase would impose a heavy financial burden on the city, which is not at present in a position to be lavish in any of its expenditures.

Most of the sites mentioned up to the present time have been either within the confines of the city proper or in its immediate vicinity. Consequently they were rather expensive and the extent of the available area in any one instance was necessarily limited. If it be absolutely necessary that a contagious hospital be within the confines of the city such limitations must, of course, be accepted. But is it necessary that this hospital be within the city limits? Is it even desirable? The matter is debatable with a strong argument in favor of having it outside the city somewhere within a five cent car fare limit and where there is a good water supply. If a site of such a character should be determined on, a much greater area could be secured than is possible in Lowell proper, and at a far lesser price.

As an instance in point: At the Chelmsford town meeting on Monday last a committee which had been delegated to find a suitable school site reported favorably on a tract of eight acres which could be had for $4500 and it was accordingly voted that land be purchased. If the town of Chelmsford found it possible to secure this site with perfect drainage and other conditions suitable for a school site, and for a comparatively small expenditure, is it not possible for the city of Lowell to do likewise by crossing the border in any of the suburban towns? Chelmsford need not necessarily be the chosen location as there are many suburbs nearer home where large tracts could be purchased for a much less sum than that demanded for city sites probably not half so desirable. The matter is one that deserves the serious attention of the municipal council.

HARMONY DESIRABLE

The enthusiasm created here by the appearance of Lieutenant-Governor David I. Walsh and his friends of the democratic state ticket augurs well for the unity that exists in the democratic ranks in Massachusetts despite some indications of a slight lack of harmony. As this friction was shown only in one instance, that of second place on the ticket, and as the defeated candidate, Mr. Long, as well as Judge Riley, comes out strongly in favor of the election of Mr. Barry, there is no good reason why any dissatisfaction should henceforth manifest itself in the party ranks. It remains for the democrats to unite solidly in support of the entire ticket, the members of which are able, progressive and thoroughly representative.

The conditions throughout the country which put a democratic president, and incidentally a really great president, at the head of the nation, and a nominally democratic governor on Beacon hill, remain unchanged. So does the personnel of the republican state ticket with the possible exception of its chief who, however, is closely associated with standpatters and unable to achieve real reforms. Mr. Bird cannot possibly be elected, despite his personal popularity, and there are many who formerly supported the republican ticket and more lately the progressive ticket who will uphold the policies of the national administration by voting for Hon. David I. Walsh and his companions on the democratic ticket. If harmony prevails in the democratic party, victory is certain for their candidate. The democrats have a great opportunity to win and nothing but disloyalty or mismanagement can turn it aside.

A LIMIT OF CRITICISM

Josephus Daniels, secretary of the navy, spoke wisely and well last Wednesday in Indianapolis before the Indiana members of the associated press when he outlined the duty of the press of the country towards the government when that government has a delicate international situation to handle. There have been many instances recently that offer timely illustration to his discourse and there are matters still pending which make a wide discussion of his ideas pertinent. It is a gratifying fact that his suggestions are in line with the policy of an almost united press and the violence of that small and generally discredited minority which would differ from him but emphasize the loyalty of the whole.

In opening his address Secretary Daniels declared that the degree of loyalty demanded and expected of their press by other nations is repugnant to our ideas of liberty. All we can hope for is the "free and independent action of each individual editor." Still, admitting the advantage of this in principle, he asks: "Once a president has taken a stand upon any foreign policy, is there any other patriotic attitude for the press to take except to support the government?" Before answering even mentally one should consider that the press is all powerful in the settlement of international questions and that therefore no light criticism should be indulged in where the vital interests of one or more nations are involved.

Secretary Daniels reminded his auditors that until congress acts on the recommendations of the president, his views are the official views of the nation and as such should be respected and upheld. He showed how the incendiary utterances of any portion of the press may be taken up by the journalistic section of the press of the foreign nation involved and used as an argument against us. He called the action of publications which criticize the administration adversely in international matters like "applying a burning match to a mass of combustibles." He admits the sacred principle of freedom of the press and freedom of speech but says: "Liberty of speech and liberty of the press in attack upon the government can never be permitted to weaken the authority of the nation's responsible head, dealing with a foreign power."

Few thoughtful men will differ with him. It is very well to praise of liberty and freedom of speech and of the press, but a liberty that is abused may be more dangerous than the worst form of tyranny. When Hissia presumed to dictate to President Wilson assuming that the views of the administration were not the views of the American people, congress forgot its own petty differences and voted its entire confidence in the chief executive promptly and unmistakably. Criticism is often salutary and necessary but in delicate international matters it should be guarded and well founded.

AMERICANS FLEE

Reign of Terror in Piedras Negras, Mexico—
Federals Close in

PIEDRAS NEGRAS, Mex., Oct. 1.—Terror has gripped this city, the provisional capital of the Mexican constitutionalists, with the victorious northward march of the federals and the arrival of hundreds of refugees from the surrounding devastated country.

Obedient the instructions of United States Consul Blocker, American residents of Piedras Negras joined the exodus and hundreds of persons crossed the international bridge into Eagle Pass yesterday afternoon, many carrying such of their possessions as they could hurriedly assemble on their backs. Consul Blocker's warning to foreigners to quit Piedras Negras immediately was in anticipation of rioting should the constitutionalists be forced to abandon their provisional capital. As the rebel army is being driven northward by the government troops under General Maas, the retreating insurgents are settling here to villages. Reports from the front last night indicate that the federals are closing in on the town of Salinas, from which the constitutionalists are expected to fall back either on Matamoros, across the line from Brownsville, Tex., or on Piedras Negras.

United States troops are hurrying to Eagle Pass from San Antonio to reinforce the garrison there, and it is understood that with the first attempt to molest the property of foreigners here an ultimatum will be issued. What form its enforcement will take has not been made known.

ENDS HER LIFE BY GAS

WOMAN WHO RETURNED TO HER HOME, AFTER TWO YEARS IN ASYLUM, A SUICIDE

MELROSE, Oct. 1.—Eluding the vigilance of her family and a trained nurse by the ploy that she was tired and wanted rest, Mrs. Annie M. Frost, wife of Oscar P. Frost, a former president of the local board of trade, left the dinner table last night, went to her room and there turned on the gas which caused her death. Mrs. Frost had returned home from an insane asylum early in the day, after two years' absence. She was 51 years old. Prior to entering the asylum Mrs. Frost was well known in the social life of the city and was particularly prominent in charitable work.

THICK, GLOSSY HAIR FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Girls! Try It! Your Hair Gets Soft, Fluffy and Luxuriant At Once

If you care for heavy hair, that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Dandruff.

Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scourge robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots flail, loosen and die, then the hair falls out fast.

If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Dandruff at any drug store or toilet counter; apply a little as directed and ten minutes after you will say: this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised, that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Dandruff. If eventually—why not now?

Lowell Hotel Men Will Have Courts Settle
Their Disputes

Edward T. Cushing, licensee of the Richardson hotel, has entered suit in the sum of $50,000 against Thomas F. Hoban, former proprietor of the Lowell Inn, and owner of the Richardson hotel, while a counter suit has been entered against Mr. Cushing in the sum of $50,000 by Mr. Hoban.

Mr. Hoban some time ago sold the Lowell Inn, and it is claimed when he went to the Richardson hotel to take charge, Mr. Cushing claimed he owned the hotel business, while the title of the real estate was in the name of Mr. Hoban. Mr. Cushing also claims, so it is said, that he understood that a portion of the revenues of the hotel, which he turned over to Mr. Hoban from time to time, was in part to give him, Mr. Cushing, an interest in the real estate, and at the present time he holds a claim on the property.

Mr. Hoban's claim is that he purchased the Richardson hotel and placed Mr. Cushing in as his agent and manager. Mr. Cushing's claim is that he bought the hotel business from Mr. Hoban, and that he is entitled to the money that Mr. Hoban is bringing his suit.

Melvin M. Johnson of Boston is counsel for Mr. Cushing and Mr. Hoban's interests will be looked after by Albert S. Howard, of the firm of Qu, Howard & Rogers, and D. J. Donahue.

Chinese Bandits Captured Americans at Tsaoyang

HANKOW, China, Oct. 1.—Five Americans and four Norwegian missionaries are in the hands of Chinese bandits, who on Friday captured the town of Tsaoyang, in the northern part of the province of Hupei. The American prisoners are reported to be Mr. and Mrs. Holmes and child and Mr. and Mrs. Miske.

The Rev. S. Stokstad of the Haugesund Norwegian mission telegraphed from Hankow that on Saturday Mr. Fauske was attached to the Lutheran brethren mission, was still held in Tsaoyang for ransom but was separated from his wife, who with other foreigners, was held prisoner in another part of the city.

The notorious bandit "White Wolf," whom the government has been fighting for several months, is the leader. Orders have been issued for the Chinese troops surrounding the district to advance towards Tsaoyang and exterminate the bandits.

General Li Yuen Heng, vice-president of the republic, told J. Paul Jameson, acting American consul at Hankow, yesterday that he believed the foreigners would not be harmed and would not be taken away.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE
"Sky Farm," the current week's efforts by the Merrimack Square theatre players is one of the most wholesome for all rural plays. It is built upon the solid rock foundation of powerful dramatic, heart interest and powerful dramatic strength. It is being given with the full cast of popular players and the star settings are one of the week's big features.

The newest of new motion pictures are also being shown which include the Mutual western and there will give way to a still newer series which will be shown, commencing tomorrow, next week "Sham," in which Miss Young will wear her famous X-ray gown, is to be given. Seats are on sale one week in advance.

KEITH'S THEATRE
There's a rattling combination of music and melody at the B. F. Keith theatre this week, and the musical fantasia called "The Porch Party" is the leading act of the all-gold program. In this a repert of excellent instrumentalists, with several fine dancers, and the singing is of a superior kind. Jack Hale, the eccentric comedian, has a style which will readily enliven any gathering, and he is assisted by a star of the great big hits of the week. Lillian Neville, singing comedienne, has a number of songs which take like wildfire, and Kelly and Laffey, dancers, are particularly strong in their shadow number. The Harrolds, hat jugglers; Meredith and Snooper, the latter a bright boy; Alan Devitt and Mabel Campbell, the girl comedienne; "Groom Forget," and the Pathe weekly film constitute the other engaging features of the bill. Tickets may be secured at the box office.

OPERA HOUSE
Today's big feature at the Lowell Opera House, "In the Power of a Hypnotist," is a psychological drama in three parts. Featuring Miss Gene Gauntier, America's foremost picture actress. Whether you believe in hypnotism or not, it is a most powerful dramatic entertainment. The story is to the finish and exploits that silent invisible force that moves one person to do the bidding of another. Leading psychologists of this country who have seen this wonderful picture have proclaimed it one of the best in its line that has ever been shown on a screen. It is claimed by the management to be the most costly picture that has ever been offered to the theatre-goers of this city for such a small admission, having been run in all of the larger cities as a separate attraction, and the lowest fee charged was five dollars.

The remainder of the program will include the latest releases from the Biograph, Vitaphone, Selig, Essanay and Pathe plays, making what should be the banner bill of the season.

THE FIREFLY
Edith Thayer in "The Firefly," a new comedy opera, which has been proclaimed the biggest success that has ever emanated from the offices of Arthur Hammerstein, will be the attraction at the Lowell Opera house next Friday evening, Oct. 4.

Exquisite, haunting music, well played by a large orchestra, beautiful colors, delicately blended into scenes of unusual loveliness, an interesting story, good comedy, with several real comedians to interpret it, and finally Miss Thayer's bewitching little act, with the big voice. That's what "The Firefly" is made out of, and it will be pure enjoyment from the start to the last.

In "The Firefly," Miss Thayer finds herself in her element. She appears as a little street singer, then a tramp boy, next in a smart Tommy Atkins suit, and finally in real prima donna clothes, but she is a fascination in all guises.

The quality of the music impresses one first and chiefly, which is exactly as it should be in a "comedy opera," as this entertainment is classified. From all accounts, it is thoroughly lovely music, not without its gay times, but much of it made of wonderful literary values and other delicious strains, which are too pleasant for analysis. Rudolph Friml, a composer who owes his chance for fame to Arthur Hammerstein, is responsible for the music.

The piece is not without its comic songs, chief among them being "Call Me Uncle," sung by Miss M. Bowers, and "Something Well Said and Done" by Irene Samel and Bert Wheeler. Maxfield Morse gets the utmost out of the many good lines that have been allotted to him. In fact the whole cast is much above the ordinary.

The executive board was chosen as follows: George Whitford, New York; Frank Kelley, Boston; Michael Boyle, Chicago; C. Testa, Washington, D. C.; J. M. Hart, Cleveland; C. M. Vickers, Fresno, Cal.; and Frank Swor, Chicago.

SEND RIOT CALL

Police Drive Strikers From Fair Grounds at Fitchburg

FITCHBURG, Oct. 1.—A riot call was sent to the Central police station yesterday afternoon from the grounds of the Worcester North Agricultural and Driving association on Pearl street, where a gang of laborers went on a strike. The strikers, it was claimed, threatened five laborers who remained at work. The strikers were in full possession of the grounds when the police squad in charge of Patrolman William H. Wallace arrived. The officers ordered them to leave the grounds at once or return to their places. A conference was held with a foreman, J. Labele, by the officers, and it was found that the strike resulted because a foreman, P. Porter, had left or had been discharged.

John Moran, who is in charge of the work with other members of the association, said Porter refused to do certain things which were ordered and that he was finally allowed to go. He said Porter was responsible for the Italians striking, urging them to leave when he was discharged. Mr. Porter, however, denied this and said that the Italian laborers had worked for him on other jobs were loyal to him and left because they did not consider that he was getting a square deal.

The strikers were driven from the grounds and finally the five men who remained at work also left, as they feared trouble. Mr. Moran last night said that a sufficient number of laborers would be put to work on the grounds today to take the places of the men who struck and that police officials would be on duty, if necessary, to give protection.

WEALTHY NEW YORKERS
Dodge the Issue on Personal Tax

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—By the conventional process of transferring their bank deposits to New Jersey or Connecticut institutions, wealthy residents of New York state are posing today as poorer by many millions. It is estimated that about $25,000,000 has been sent across the river to New Jersey or over the Connecticut state border. The reason is that today is a personal property tax day and many possessors of wealth have long made it a custom to adopt this ruse to avoid taxation in New York state.

According to Lawson Parry, president of the board of tax commissioners, however, the removal of accounts from this city to other states does not exempt the owners from taxation on these deposits and he cannot avoid the tax unless he ventures a false oath as to the amount of his personal property.

TWO MILITANTS ARRESTED HERE ARE THE QUESTIONS

Engaged in Fierce Scrimmage
With Police in London—Were Recently Liberated

LONDON, Oct. 1.—A fierce scrimmage occurred today when Beatrice Saunders, financial secretary of the women's political union, and Harriet Kerr, the secretary, were arrested at the headquarters of the militant organization in Kingsway under the provisions of the "cat and mouse" act. Miss Saunders is under sentence of 15 months and the Kerr woman of nine months. They were sent to jail recently but were later liberated after a "mugger strike."

MANY FEAR FOR SAFETY

HUNDREDS OF MEXICANS FLEE TO AMERICAN SOIL OWING TO SERIOUS OUTBREAKS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—Although a great exodus of Americans from Texas, across the Rio Grande, into Mexico, has taken place within the last 24 hours, officials here pointed out today that only a smaller portion of them are Americans. Hundreds of Mexicans have been concentrating in Piedras Negras from the interior of Coahuila and many of these, fearing for their safety in the expected occupation of the constitutionalists' capital by Mexican federalists have sought an asylum on American soil.

Officials at the war department are not alarmed over the situation now that the border patrol has been reinforced by additional soldiers from Fort San Antonio and they suggested today that the presence of a machine gun platoon on the American side at the international bridge would in all likelihood insure protection, regardless of the straits in which the hard pressed constitutionalists may find themselves.

PIG SAVES LIFE

Farmer Who Was Chilled in Water Was Towed in by Porker

FREEPORT, Me., Oct. 1.—J. B. Huston of this town owes his life to his pig. Yesterday on going out behind his barn he saw his porker bounding about in the Mast Landing creek, and as it looked as though the animal was more likely to drown than he was to reach the shore, Mr. Huston promptly jumped in and started to swim to his rescue.

He had not gone far, however, when the cold water chilled him through and it was only after a hard struggle that he reached the pig. He threw his arms around the animal's neck while the pig proceeded to tow him ashore.

Constituting the Examination for Evening School Teachers—Big Interest Manifested in Them

As the recent examinations for qualification as principals and teachers of the evening schools aroused considerable interest among the residents of this city, there is no doubt that the questions which the candidates were required to answer will hold interest for a great many. It is possible that they might be found useful from an educational standpoint; for instance, if some people would, without preparation, try and see how many of these questions they can answer correctly, they might possibly discover weak points in their knowledge of the elementary branches, although the questions themselves are quite simple and not calculated to "catch" candidates. Again, it may be that they will be useful to those who intend in the future to try for positions as teachers in the evening schools, giving them an idea of the character of the tests. Following are the questions in arithmetic, history and English, from the examination for principals and teachers of the elementary evening schools:

ENGLISH I.
1. Write a sentence using (a) that as a conjunction; (b) that as an adjective; (c) well as an adjective; (d) well as an adverb; (e) attempt as a noun.
2. "The only sound which fills the air, is the sluggish murmur of the river, as it glides under the walls of the castle." Name the principal and the subordinate clauses and parse the connectives.

ARITHMETIC I.
1. What part of a dollar is 61-4 cents? 131-2 cents? 162-3 cents. 371-2 cents?
2. Reduce 12 to ten thousandths. Change .915 to a common fraction. Divide 650 by 602-3.
3. Find the cost of 200 yards of muslin at 33 1-3 cents a yard. Multiply by the short method and explain the process as you would to a class.

4. A dry goods dealer paid $225 for newspaper advertising and $78 for circulars. What per cent of his total outlay was for newspaper advertising, and what per cent for advertising by circulars?
5. A farmer sold his horse at a gain of 250 or 25 per cent. Find the cost. Do the work by analysis.

6. What monthly rent should be charged for a house costing $10,240 in order than 6 per cent interest on the investment may be realized?
HISTORY I.

1. (a) Name some battle of the Revolution that was fought in Massachusetts. (b) Where, and to whom did Lord Cornwallis surrender his army?
2. (a) In what year, and where did the first inauguration of Washington take place? (b) How many states made up the Union when Washington began to serve? (c) How many states make up the Union today?
3. (a) How did the United States get possession of the territory out of Philadelphia, Pa.—"I had been troubled for the past three years with pimples which completely covered my face and neck. LT. GOV. WALSH REPLIES

SAYS TOUR THROUGH STATE WITH BIRD WOULD BE UNFAIR TO BEST OF DEMOCRATIC TICKET

BOSTON, Oct. 1.—The belief that the state and local candidates of the democratic party are entitled to the assistance of the head of the ticket in their campaign is all that prevents David I. Walsh from accepting the invitation of Charles S. Bird to accompany him on his tour of the state and debate with him the issues of the campaign, according to a letter sent yesterday by Mr. Walsh to Mr. Bird.

The letter follows:
"My Dear Mr. Bird: I have your recent letters inviting me to join you in your tour throughout the Commonwealth in the presentation of the issues which the electorate of Massachusetts will render a verdict upon on Nov. 4."

"My first inclination was to accept your invitation, upon certain conditions, but upon reflection and consultation with my associates upon the state ticket I must decline your invitation. I feel that I owe my associates on the state ticket and the democratic candidates for county offices and the legislature some special consideration, and that they are entitled to my services."

"To accept your invitation would mean that my associates upon the state ticket would have to make their campaign alone, without the benefit of the presence of the candidate for governor, which always serves in obtaining a larger attendance at public meetings, thereby giving local and state candidates the advantage of meeting more of their fellow-citizens."

"In view of the fact that I desire to cooperate in the promotion of the election of all democratic candidates as much as my own, you will understand I am sure, why I do not accept your very generous offer, which you have unquestionably made in good faith, and in the interest of assisting the electorate of Massachusetts to obtain a better knowledge of our views on public questions. Very respectfully yours, 'David I. Walsh.'"

Lieut. Gov. Walsh had a long talk with Chairman Riley of the state committee yesterday over campaign plans. Last night, Riley, with Chairman Fague of the democratic legislative committee and Charles F. Riordan, treasurer of the state committee, visited the democratic committees in Stoughton, Randolph and Sharon, stirring up enthusiasm.

Edward P. Barry, democratic candidate for lieutenant governor, who is in New Hampshire for a rest, sent word to his friends in Boston yesterday that he is still opposed to Thomas P. Riley for chairman of the democratic state committee and that he will have nothing to do with him in the campaign. Barry says he will run his own campaign.

MAN WIELDS A KNIFE

NIGHT SWITCHMAN OF BOSTON & MAINE RAILROAD STABS A FELLOW WORKMAN

BOSTON, Oct. 1.—Fred Crosby, 37 years old, a night switchman of the Boston & Maine railroad at the Mystic Junction yards, Somerville, claiming that he had been persecuted by fellow workmen and in particular by John D. Deady, a brakeman, 23 years old, of 19 Pearl street, South Framingham, drew a pocket knife at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon and stabbed Deady in the right breast and then slashed him across the right wrist at the Prospect Hill railroad station, Somerville.

Deady went to the office of Dr. George F. Hughes on Cross street and was sent at once to the Somerville hospital, where it was determined that while the wounds were severe they were not of a serious character.

COURT HOUSE IMPROVEMENTS
The work of remodeling a section of the office of the registry of deeds on Gosham street preparatory to installing counters and filing cases is practically completed and before the end of the present week it is expected that the work of erecting the counters will be started.

To comply with the law it is necessary to have more room in the registry than there is at the present time. About one month ago these improvements were started and the corridor that runs from the entrance to the registry and a small room on the North side of the building to have been made into one large room. Filing cases and safe deposit boxes are to be installed immediately and in a few weeks the work will be completed and the office will be up-to-date in every way.

SNODGRASS, GIANT OUTFIELDER, SAYS HE WON'T DROP THE BALL AGAIN

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Fred Snodgrass was the most unpopular player of the Giant team after the deciding game of last year's world series. His playing, brilliant for the most part, became of the bonehead variety at the crucial and deciding moment, with the result that the Boston Red Sox won the series. Giant rooters roared at him.

Snodgrass so hard when he muffed that final fly that the fans wondered if he would ever dare to appear in uniform again. But such things are the spice of baseball, after all, and Snodgrass kept right on, with the result that he has been one of the best outfielders on the team. But his friends hope he won't drop the ball again. He says he won't.

100 FEET UNDER GROUND
RESCUING PARTY WORKING HARD TO REACH ENTOMBED MINER AT CENTRALIA, PA.

CENTRALIA, Pa., Oct. 1.—The rescuing party at the Continental mine of the Lehigh Valley Coal Co., which is trying to reach Thomas Teshesky, a miner who was entombed last Friday, this morning arrived at a point which showed that 40 feet of solid coal and rock would have to be cut through to enable him to crawl in and release the imprisoned man.

Teshesky is undergoing the ordeal bravely in his isolated little prison one hundred feet below the surface. Frequently during the night he conversed with the rescuers, his remarks being heard very clearly through the 50 feet of tubing penetrating the coal breast from an adjoining chamber. Since a blanket was pushed through the tube to him yesterday he feels more comfortable. He said the water was dripping from the roof and that his prison was beginning to grow damp, while the atmosphere was becoming heavy. Unless he is soon rescued he may perish from want of fresh air, mining experts say. Teshesky frequently asks about his wife and four children. He begs the rescuers to tell his wife that he should worry as little as possible.

Saturday, October 4th, is "Quarter Day" at The Lowell Five Cent Savings Bank.

WORLD'S SERIES
Players Fraternity Defies Ruling of National Commission

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Baseball players who write articles for newspapers on the coming world's series will have the support of the Baseball Players' fraternity. It was announced yesterday by David I. Fultz, lawyer, who is president of the organization. Fultz made a statement regarding the rule laid down by the national commission, prohibiting players of the competing teams from writing on the championship games or allowing their names to be signed to articles written by others.

Officials of the New York National club announced yesterday they have returned $50,000 to persons who sent the money to buy tickets to the championship game. Under the rules, no small orders for tickets are to be honored and would-be purchasers must await their turns at the gates.

L. H. Constans, representing the national baseball commission, last night issued the following statement relative to press reservations at the Polo grounds and Shila park.

"Mr. Constans urges upon all out-of-town newspapers who intend sending representatives to the world series to look after the games to send their applications in immediately to William J. Macbeth of the New York American, New York, and Joseph McCready of the Philadelphia Press, Philadelphia, in regard to reservations."

TWO ATHLETICS WILL WRITE
WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—Connie Mack, manager of the Athletics, in a statement here last night, declared that he would not prevent two of his players, Baker and Collins, from writing special newspaper articles on the world's series, against which a ruling was recently issued by the National baseball commission.

"It seems that the commission is making the ruling entirely too late," said Mr. Mack.

100 FEET UNDER GROUND
RESCUING PARTY WORKING HARD TO REACH ENTOMBED MINER AT CENTRALIA, PA.

CENTRALIA, Pa., Oct. 1.—The rescuing party at the Continental mine of the Lehigh Valley Coal Co., which is trying to reach Thomas Teshesky, a miner who was entombed last Friday, this morning arrived at a point which showed that 40 feet of solid coal and rock would have to be cut through to enable him to crawl in and release the imprisoned man.

Teshesky is undergoing the ordeal bravely in his isolated little prison one hundred feet below the surface. Frequently during the night he conversed with the rescuers, his remarks being heard very clearly through the 50 feet of tubing penetrating the coal breast from an adjoining chamber. Since a blanket was pushed through the tube to him yesterday he feels more comfortable. He said the water was dripping from the roof and that his prison was beginning to grow damp, while the atmosphere was becoming heavy. Unless he is soon rescued he may perish from want of fresh air, mining experts say. Teshesky frequently asks about his wife and four children. He begs the rescuers to tell his wife that he should worry as little as possible.

Saturday, October 4th, is "Quarter Day" at The Lowell Five Cent Savings Bank.

WORLD'S SERIES
Players Fraternity Defies Ruling of National Commission

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Baseball players who write articles for newspapers on the coming world's series will have the support of the Baseball Players' fraternity. It was announced yesterday by David I. Fultz, lawyer, who is president of the organization. Fultz made a statement regarding the rule laid down by the national commission, prohibiting players of the competing teams from writing on the championship games or allowing their names to be signed to articles written by others.

Officials of the New York National club announced yesterday they have returned $50,000 to persons who sent the money to buy tickets to the championship game. Under the rules, no small orders for tickets are to be honored and would-be purchasers must await their turns at the gates.

L. H. Constans, representing the national baseball commission, last night issued the following statement relative to press reservations at the Polo grounds and Shila park.

"Mr. Constans urges upon all out-of-town newspapers who intend sending representatives to the world series to

K.O. BROWN COMES BACK

HAD BETTER OF DANNY RIDGE IN BOUT IN NEW YORK CLUB LAST EVENING

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—"Knockout" Brown, the rugged East Side light-weight, made his first appearance in a local ring since his return from the Pacific coast and had the better of Danny Ridge in a 10-round bout last night. Ridge did superior work in the first three rounds. Brown went to the floor from a hard right to the jaw in the fourth round, but he was up immediately. After the third round Brown's experience told and he outboxed Ridge in the next six rounds. The 15th was even, both men trying hard for a knockout. Both weighed about 135 pounds.

LOOKS LIKE BIG SEASON

At Y. M. C. I.—Doors Were Thrown Open Last Night

And Alleys Resounded With Rumble of Balls and Crash of Pins

The Y. M. C. I. was certainly no place for a nervous man last night when the doors were thrown open for the winter season and judging from the interest shown by the members it is going to be the biggest and best in the history of the society. Both the single and married members began to gather with their friends shortly after 7 o'clock and the alleys resounded with the rumble of balls and the crash of pins as the beneficiaries and the single men struggled for supremacy. Occasionally these sounds were drowned by the cheers of the "rooters" who lined both sides of the alleys and showed as much interest as the warriors themselves. From the pool tables came the clicking of the ivories, as the "sharks" shot ball after ball into the pockets. From the card room came the sound of a Victrola playing all the latest pieces to make merry for the card players who battled at whist and pinochle, and also for the checker artists who sat for hours doping out their plays. After the games, the members retired to the main hall where a light lunch was served and a very clever musical program was carried out. It opened with a short address by President Flanagan who introduced Brothers McGuire and Meahan and they favored with a duet on the violin and piano. Songs were rendered by Mr. John J. Myers, Jack McGuffey, William Meahan, and Frank McGuffey, who made a hit with the crowd when he sang "Somebody Has Come to My House," which, by the way, was very appropriate. Tom Higgins recited his "Awakening of China" in grand style and the program closed with singing by the entire audience. It was well on to midnight when the members started for their homes and all agree that when it comes to arranging a good time, you will have to take your hat off to the Y. M. C. I. who had charge of the arrangements.

A reception followed the ceremony and later in the evening the happy couple left on a honeymoon trip. On their return they will make their home in Chithere street.

MURDERED 7 WITH AXE

NANTES, France, Oct. 1.—A crime of incredible savagery was committed yesterday by a boy of 15 years, who with an axe murdered seven persons in the village of Basbridgeonne Landreau in the department of the Loire-Inférieure. The boy, Marcel Redureau, was employed as a grape-cutter. He and his employer, Georges Mahit, were present together last evening when a discussion arose between them. Redureau became angry, seized an enormous axe and with a single sweep cut Mahit's throat from ear to ear, killing him instantly. The young murderer then entered his employer's house, holding his formidable weapon dripping with blood in his hand. He dashed up to Madame Mahit and slashed her throat till she was dead and then killed a servant in the same way. Still with his dripping axe in his hand, the boy proceeded to another room, where he dispatched his employer's mother in a similar way and then followed this deed by killing three of Mahit's children who were sleeping in the same chamber. For some unknown reason he spared a fourth child, aged four, lying by his side. After the completion of his series of crimes, Redureau went to bed and slept till this morning, by which time the bodies had been discovered by the villagers. After his arrest he made a complete confession.

described. His testimony was a refutation of that offered by the complainant and the wife of the complainant.

Benjamin J. Moloney, Esq., for the defense and Attorney Murphy for the prosecution. Both spent some time in summing up their respective sides of the case. In making his decision Judge Enright stated that he knew the complainant to be a quiet fellow who had always borne a good reputation. The defendant was found guilty and ordered to furnish bonds for his good behavior as well as to pay the costs of the court.

Conrad appeared from the court's decision. While he was waiting for his bondsmen to appear the defendant saw an acquaintance across the court room and whilst still to him while a witness in the next case was being examined. Judge Enright promptly sent him down stairs in charge of an officer. The court remarked that Conrad must have gotten police court etiquette and a ball game confused in his mind.

CHARGED WITH LARCENY
The case of Jules Reigner, charged with the larceny of 25 pounds of lead pipe from David Ziskind was next called. William Hogan, Esq., counsel for the defendant, occupied over an hour in his cross-examination of the government's witnesses.

Mr. Ziskind said that a house in Howard street belonging to him had been entered and 65 pounds of lead cut from his sink pipe. He said that the lead alleged to have been taken by the defendant measured up to what was taken from his house.

Two junk dealers testified that the
